Chapter 1

Volume 1 Chapter 1: Under the Tree of Truth

There is an academy in Heinz Kingdom's Royal Capital, it is a place that people with magical power must attend, Heinz Academy, an academy with a dormitories system.

Because people who possess magic power and can use magic are very valuable in this world, one must go to this school for the relations of management upbringing from when you are 12 years old until you are 15 years old with the exception of the old ones regardless of social status if the magical power had more than a fixed quantity.

Even without social status, commoners have extremely little magical power compared to the students who were sons or daughters of a noble because of hereditary relations.

The Count's daughter Emil Vorst 13 years old, is participating in an end of year party for first-year students. She has hair with bangs that are cut right at the eyebrows, with dark blue hair dangling on both sides of her face, with a length that reaches until her waist and tied in a ponytail. Big purple eyes that slant upward which gave a neat air, a straight nose ridge and small lips, Emil evaluated her appearance as superior.

Emil has been a wallflower since the party started.

Judging from Emil's social status as a Count's daughter, it's not strange if some male students try to talk to her to create a connection with this opportunity, but there's a bad rumor about Emil that has spread among the male students which made them unwilling to get involved with her.

"Is the party going to end?", Emil looked around the party hall where the amount of people started to decrease and took a look at a clock.

“15 more minutes until the promised time. I have to leave now if I’m walking from here to the meeting place.”

Emil put down the glass she held and left the party.

A party for students is allowed, it’s a custom to start it in the afternoon and to end it before evening. When Emil wore a coat and left, the sun already set and it became dimmer outside. At the top of the small hill in the school ground there’s a big tree that is over 100 years old, the students called it <Tree of Truth> and used it as a place for love confession or a place to have a discussion. When there’s falsehood in anything a black leaf seems to fall from the tree. It’s one of the urban legends the students believe and it has been spread from senpai to kouhai until now.

With a mix of anticipation and anxiety, Emil arrived below the <Tree of Truth> and looked up at the tree. 10 days ago, Emil received a letter from an unknown sender 「Please come to Tree of Truth when the party ends at 18:00. 」

Because of shyness, Emil didn’t have any male friends. On the contrary, Emil’s followers guarded her from male students trying to talk to her. It’s not a problem that needs to be discussed, so Emil only think this is about a love confession. Emil felt her face becoming red because of the development that resembles a fairy tale.

“You came, Miss Vorst?”

Emil turned around to a man who called her family name. There she saw three male students, and a female student behind them. They are all famous figures within the academy, on the left is a son of a Knight Duke, Gilbert Grouge. Short pointy red hair and sharp blue eyes, a tall figure with solid build, a Knight Apprentice. He was glaring at Emil.

In the middle is Heinz Kingdom’s Third Prince, Khais Louvis Heinz. Short silky blond hair and jade eyes, he was like a prince from a picture book, but now there is a strong pressure being emitted from him.

On the right is the youngest First Class Magician, Christopher Rozen. Straight light blue hair that cut right around his shoulder with big golden eyes. His age is comparatively younger but in his hand he was grasping a wand to use magic.

And the girl behind the Prince is a commoner that attracts a lot attention because of her ability as a light magic user, Risty Siltat. Pink-brown wavy hair reached to her shoulder and light blue eyes, She held onto Khais's sleeve with troubled expression.

Emil started to grasp the situation and asked them.

"To call me to a place like this, just what kind of business did you all have with me?"

The situation was contrary to her delusion, she sighed.

"Wha-!! What kind of business you said!!"

"Gilbert, can you leave this to me?"

Gilbert who suddenly got worked up nearly went to grab Emil, but Khais stepped forward and stopped him.

"Miss Vorst, we called you because we want to hear the truth from you. About the despicable deed you did to Risty."

Khais said that in calm manner, but his expression was firm and he looked at Emil.

On the other hand, Emil, who didn't know anything about this despicable deed, was tilting her head.

"Your Highness Heinz, even if you said despicable deed, I do not know anything about it. In the first place, Siltat-sama and I are in a different class and we never had any conversation before."

"Are you planning to feign ignorance? Gilbert saw it when Risty tried to give you a cake and you pushed her down and trampled the cake on the ground, Christopher heard too about your followers when they were bad mouthing Risty, when Risty were covered in garbage I saw you were around her. In addition I heard Risty got harassed by you. I want to clearly hear the truth under this Tree of Truth!"

Emil tried to recall her memory. Certainly during this 1 year there was a female student who fell and was covered in mud, and covered in garbage too. But, Emil didn't know if that female student was Risty. A commoner who can use light magic Risty Shiltat, Emil only knew about that much but she never had any interest in Risty's appearance.

"... Your Highness Heinz, certainly there is a female student who fell down near me. But I did not do anything about that."

"Ha!!? When I went to help Risty, only you were around! It was clearly you who used magic to make her fall!!"

"Grouge-sama, you knew that I cannot use magic, and said that I used magic?"

Gilbert was worked up at Emil's reply, but Emil still told them she can't use magic with self-mockery.

"... There's a magical power... but can't use magic...."

Christopher who was silent until now muttered. Emil enrolled in this academy because she had magical power, but can't use magic.

"It is as Rozen-sama says. I was allowed to enroll in this academy because I have magical power. And, there is a conversation about alumni who were commoners with my friends, but I never met those commoners face to face. And there is a time when I told some commoner to stop eating while walking too, but I do not know who it was I spoke to."

The three male students had a bad expression, and Risty's face slowly paled.

"Aa, she tried to make me look like a bad guy. I do not have time to play along with this worthless farce anyway so let's end it here."

Emil slowly walked to Risty.

"Siltat-sama, did I truly do something to you?"

Emil steadily walked to Risty. Surprised, Risty's shoulder started to trembled.

"Don't get close to Risty!!!"

"Gil!!"

"Kyaaa!!?"

With a voice that was louder than before, Gilbert pushed Emil's shoulder before Khais could stop him. As a Count's daughter, Emil has received some training in swordsmanship and martial arts but because of her high-heeled shoes, she lost her balance and while falling she hit the tree with the back of her head and lost consciousness.

Chapter 2

Volume 1 Chapter 2: Academy's Infirmary Room

Emil woke up after she passed out for two days.

“E-Emil-sama!!!! Are you okay? Is there something you want!? Aren't you thirsty? Aa, have to call the doctor! I'm going out for a second! Please don't move okay? Got it!?”

Emil's personal attendant Cecillia started to speak sentences in quick succession, after Emil gave a nod she went out of the room with amazing speed.

Though there aren't any problems with her head, memories about her previous life in Japan needed two days to be recalled through a dream.

Unknown ceiling.... Tte, isn't that joke already too old?

Hmm... it's quite hazy but, my memories in this life and from my previous life seems to have merged together completely. It's not like the me until now has gone, is it right to call it “I have just remember it”?

Maa, cheers for the new “Me” I guess.

Let's reviews my memory here.

The me in my previous life was living in Japan on Earth. Born and raised in a humble household, an anime otaku and slightly fujoshi. Of course I loved manga and light novels too. Perhaps because I died or something I was reborn here as a noble's daughter in a Middle Age-ish Fantasy world with swords and magic. I was somewhat of a hikikomori and quite shy with others, and got rolled in a shoujo game Villainess' Conviction Event after being enrolled for 1 year.

When thinking about that, Cecillia return like how she went out before.

Is the door okay?...

“Emil-sama! I have called the doctor. Aa, want to drink the water? Here you go!”

Cecillia lifted my back slowly and helped me to drink the water. I’m revived!

“Thank you, Cecillia.”

When I thank her, Cecillia hugged me and cried.

Oi, you are heavy you know.

“Look, Jou-chan feels heavy there. If you are glad then how about getting away a little?”

Someone tapped on Cecillia’s shoulder and advised her.

There was an old man in white robes who is around 60 years old, he took a chair and sat right beside the bed.

He must be the doctor, I don’t know him though.

30 minutes has been passed after I received the medical checkups, and then I returned to my room at the dorm.

Because the end of year party already ended, almost all the students were returning home or travelling so there were only a few students who had some circumstances that stayed at the academy.

Ugugu~, I too have some circumstances huh. It’s not my fault though!

There were 3 letters on the desk when I returned to the dorm, according to Cecillia these letters were sent by the Conviction Event’s participants. “Better to throw them away!”, Cecillia foolishly suggested to me.

Even though she’s the oldest one here, because of her lovely appearance I pinched her cheek and played with it. It’s really calming.

Girls are really great!

There are 3 letters except one from Gilbert, from The Prince and Shota Magician “Sorry for doubting you and jumping to the wrong conclusion, tehepero. Is your injury okay?”

That was what written courteously there.

And from the Heroine-chan, Risty

“I have troubled you because of my clumsiness, I’m sorry. I talked to them to clear up the misunderstanding but they didn’t believe me, so they thought that the weak me got bullied. It is really a sin to be blessed with beauty right ☆. I’m really sorry ♪”.

That what was written there... as it is. Next time let’s call her Bitch-chan.

Incidentally, this world is not a Shoujo Game’s world so I don’t think there is a Heroine’s Correction.

By the way, The offender who was a Knight’s son and also the one who pushed me to the tree didn’t say anything ne~. He seems to be really attached to Bitch-chan and doesn’t want to apologize to me. Thanks to that I remembered my memories from my previous life, so that’s okay. But the truth is that I am quite angry. What kind of Knight rises his hand against a woman! I think it’s better to let him get a scolding from his parents.

“Emil-sama...?”

Oops, Cecillia looked at me with anxiety while I was reading the letters. She was the one who took care of me until I woke up. I still remember it, when I was in a trance at that time she always greeted me and talked to me when she took care of me. From others point of view it’s like an employer and employee, but to me she is like family! The me until now always took some distance from her so I can’t say it.

“N, It’s okay Cecillia. Even though I just woke up I’m already tired. I want to have a rest today.”

“Yes, Emil-sama. I will make the preparations right away.”

Seems like I fell asleep when Cecillia was done changing my clothes and cleaning the bed.

It was already morning when I woke up and Cecillia was packing my luggage into a trunk.

“Good morning Cecillia. What are you doing?”

“Good morning Emil-sama! This is an arrangement for returning home. I’m going to prepare breakfast right now.”

And like that Cecillia went out of the room. Tte, returning home? Ee, I don't wanna go home....

I have some questions, isn't it bad if the me who has recollections of my previous life got found out? And after that got brought to a Mental Hospital, and some suspicious doctors do something strange to me?

Besides, I'm not very good with my father George and my eldest brother Sieg at home. If the trouble from academy got found out I don't know what my eldest brother is going to say to me. Just thinking about that make my stomach hurt. In the first place that was a false accusation!

Father has dark-blue hair with an all-back hairstyle, sharp purple eyes and a mustache, his appearance was like a dandy oji-sama mafia boss, however because of his reticence I don't know what he's thinking at all. I never saw him laugh, I even thought that I never reflected in my father's eyes. I can't say it just because I never saw him showing any emotion, but his noh-mask like face was seriously 1000% scary.

My brother Sieg has the same hair color as my father and light blue eyes like my mother, his appearance is like an Intellectual Ikemen and it seems like he is good at using the sword too. He doesn't really like me, he always compared me to my older sister who is as beautiful as my mother at every opportunity. He was married 7 years ago and now he should be studying at a territory that my father was once managing.

Cecillia continued preparing my preparations to return home when I finished my breakfast.

Because I have some free time I decided to go to the academy's magic training room.

Of course it's for magic practice. It's seriously a joke that I have magical power but can't use magic at all in this Fantasy world!

I will never give up!!!

After going out of the dorm, there was the Knight's son Gilbert sitting on a sofa at the entrance. I don't want anything to do with him, so I tried to ignore him, but as expected he called out to me.

“Miss Vorst, do you have some time?”

“I have something to do right now. I am in a hurry so please leave it for another time.”

Gilbert was frowning while talking to me. You don't need to push yourself like that you know, but I refuse!

“Wait.”

He said that and caught my wrist.

What's with him. Seriously annoying.

“I understand. I am listening right now so can you release my hand?”

“..... ry”

“Ee, what did you said? I can't hear you.”

My hand was released, but I really can't hear what he is saying.

Say it clearly.

“..... Sorry.”

“Is that about the injury when I was pushed to the tree? Or about grabbing my wrist?”

“..... Both.”

“I forgive them.”

“E? Ha??”

He came to apologize so I forgave him and he was surprised.

What's with this kid? Is he stupid? Because it can't be helped I'll say it once again.

“About the injury you caused to me when you pushed me, and about you grabbing my wrist I forgave them. There are no after effects on my injury too, it was a trivial accident so Grouge-sama does not need to apologize. For me an apology is already more than enough.”

“Wa-Wait a second. I want to take responsibility..... for that is..... ma..... marriage.... I think...”

“I refuse. Excuse me.”

I somewhat didn't understand what is he said so I refused it with everything I had. While showing etiquette as a lady I ran away from the dorm.

Chapter 3

Volume 1 Chapter 3: Magic Practice's Room

Though it was good to reject Gilbert's confession and leave that place immediately, when I think about it again it is strange for Gilbert himself to come and confess to me. It's not like people can be married at the same date just with mutual consent like in Japan, a Noble man and lady had a different Lineage and Peerage.

Something might happen when I return home. I can't do anything about this so for now let's postpone it for later.

I borrowed a key for a Magic Practice Room from a teacher inside the academy, and head for room number 2.

The Magic Practice Room is a personal training room, it's like a Karaoke Box's room with listed number and can be used immediately if there's a reservation for it. Of course there is another room for practicing magic, but that room is more like a gymnasium.

The Practice Room size is similar to a school classroom's size in Japan, the ceiling is not very high though. It seems like there are a few magic barriers inside the room to prevent magic from going through the room. Sometimes when the barriers break, students are allowed to continue practicing magic at an unused room while waiting for the barriers to be repaired.

Well, let's begin with some magic practice! An amazing fantasy life is awaiting me if I can use magic!!

First, let's try the basic fire magic. Equipped with a long cane, I pointed it toward the target and begin an aria from the textbook.

“O roaring flames burn everything, Fire!”

A pillar of fire went up for 3 meters with bof sound effects.

“Hot!! Or rather, the magic invoked?! Uhahahaha! I did it~~~~~!!”

I assumed a guts pose with a loud voice unintentionally. Thanks to the barrier no one heard me, safe~! Even though I look like this I am a Noble Lady, I have to pay attention around me.

After Fire I tried Wind, Water, Earth, Light and Darkness. Everything was invoked smoothly. I became a magician! Uhehehe~.

I was so happy that I couldn’t stop grinning, nobody saw it so it is safe!

Incidentally it seems like the aria can be anything, it is also possible to invoke magic without an aria if the mental image is clear. It is quite amusing with an aria, but if talking about convenience, no aria is more convenient.

This world had a power to turn an image into magic, and it is also possible to create a magic guide book about not using an aria! If it’s like this, there are no other choices aside from trying it out!

The image is Tornado. The tornado is like in some tornado hunter’s TV channel I saw before, and I tried to recall some aria that matches with it.

“O windstorm swallow everything, Tornado!”

I chant the aria in Japanese because I was more accustomed to it, and the image is easier too.

gogogogogo~~~

Together with the rumbling ground the wind vortex slowly took the shape of a tornado, the target that is already tattered got blown away, and the tornado steadily got bigger. Even the Practice Room's ceiling can't hold it, that power can't be stopped.

"A, are~.... isn't it really dangerous!?"

Pishi!~

Paki!~

I started to hear some dangerous sounds inside the room, and cracks started to appear on the barrier.

While I was thinking about a way to cancel the magic, the tornado broke through the barrier and I was blown away to a wall by the shockwave.

Fortunately I didn't lose consciousness, although breathing became painful because of the impact. I just lie down and wait for my body to recover, I heard several footsteps at the corridor of people running this way. The footsteps stopped at the door

"We're going in!!"

And then the door was opened.

"!! Oi! Are you okay!?"

"It's only you who's here right?"

"... The barrier... is gone."

I only replied "I'm okay" while being helped to stand up. These 3 who quickly came and helped me are the teachers who work here.

"I am sorry, it seems like I have troubled you."

I was clearly the culprit here, let's honestly apologize. I stood up and bow my head slowly.

"No, it's okay... But what just happened here? The room is already tattered like this..."

The teacher who called me while supporting me to stand up is a Sword Technique Instructor, Smith-sensei. As expected from an ex-Knight, he has a Gori-Macho like body and has a really thin dark-brown hair with blue eyes, his mustache was like a dandy oji-sama's.

"Well, I only practiced magic here..."

I got a little angry and almost let my thoughts slip out there.

"You see, a normal magic won't be able to break the barrier. What kind of magic did you use?"

The one who asked me a question is a teacher who is responsible in Magic Practical Skill A, Ron-sensei. His blond hair's length reaches until his back and he has emerald coloured eyes, and most of all he is a super handsome man who even makes Hollywood's actors pale in comparison and is top ranked in the academy's popularity contest. However, He is an Oni while in class.

He was an object of fear to me, who can't use magic.

"It is a wind magic."

I spoke about the magic's attribute while maintaining my manners as a Lady. Well in this Kingdom there aren't any tornado disasters, and a book about weather didn't have anything written about it too, because it's still unclear if this world can bring forth tornadoes I can only answer honestly.

"What "kind" of Wind magic?"

Ron-sensei spoke politely but, his curiosity has a great emphasis there. What kind of answer should I give, I don't know. Honestly answer that I created a tornado would only make this more troublesome so, rejected!

I shut my mouth and look downward. In this situation, only this is the best thing I can do.

"... For now, how about... moving to... the Counseling Room first?"

In this situation the one who threw the lifeboat is a teacher who's in charge of Magic Potion, Edi-sensei. His haircut is exactly like a Mushroom where his bangs covered his eyes completely and he's wearing a worn-out black robe. In my delusion I was sure he is an Ikemen without his bangs.

The other teachers approved Edi-sensei's suggestion and we started to head to the Counseling Room. It's the beginning of an interrogation.

How can it go like this.

Chapter 4

TL note : Just some heads up.

~~In this chapter Ron-sensei said a tornado that is written in katakana トルネード, while in chapter 3 and this chapter Emil said tornado that is written in kanji 竜巻 which is have meaning as Waterspout too. So for now i'm gonna change Emil's tornado magic to Waterspout.~~

After think about it again i guess Waterspout is categorized as water magic so i'm gonna change it back to Tornado

Volume 1 Chapter 4: Student Counseling's Room

There is a desk between me and Ron-sensei, beside the desk was Smith-sensei. Edi-sensei was sitting at a desk near the door behind me. Seems like Edi-sensei took a position as a recorder. I returned the key for the Magic Practice Room.

“So, how can you explain about that Wind magic? And from what I remember you shouldn't be able to use magic. Please explain about it too.”

Is it because a student who has magical power but can't use magic was rare?

Ron-sensei was frowning when I started explaining.

“I was using an image about wind rotating from the ground and swallowing everything around it while it keeps increasing the speed and altitude at the same time. I was not neglecting my practice at magic even when I knew I can't use magic. Today before I returned home I borrowed the Magic Practice Room to do some practice, and that was where I used magic for the first time. After that I tried some magic that was not listed in the textbook and, that is how I used the Wind magic that I just explained.”

“.... A Wind magic that is rotating while it goes upward. Isn't that Tornado!? But, for a person that is using magic for the first time to invoke it, it's just.... ”

Ron-sensei suddenly stood up while placing both hands on the desk and started to mutter something.

Come to think of it, a Tornado(竜巻) can be called Tornado(トルネード) too! Or rather, there is a magic for Tornado huh. Even though it's not in the textbook, too bad it can't become my original magic.

“Is it a rare magic?”

“That is so. It's quite a risky magic so we can't just teach it to the students. In case it's a Magician Guild member then it's not strange if some of them knew it, but the magical power consumption is just too intense so there are only a few people who can use it.”

Ron-sensei answered Smith-sensei's question seriously.

Fumu, it sounds like an advanced class magic. I think it's better to not use a magic that can easily change the weather just like that.

“If the magic you used was Tornado, then it's not strange for the barrier to be destroyed. But, why did you use a Tornado magic?”

“Even if sensei asked why, I'm quite troubled. I just invoked a magic like what I imagined it to be.”

I answered Ron-sensei who keep asking questions. It's not like I don't understand how you feel, but you are so persistent. It's already past noon, Cecillia might start to get worried if I don't return now.

“I, it's not good if I do not return now, may I excuse myself? The maid might get worried if I return late.”

“Wait. Please show that magic. After confirming it we won’t mind for you to return.”

“Ron! Are you going to allow that dangerous magic to be used?!”

“We can’t leave it without confirming it first, this time I and Edi-sensei are here so there won’t be any problem for the safety measures.”

“You will be fine with this too right?”

I nod unwillingly.

Seems like we are going to use the Magic Lab. There’re a lot more magic barriers in there than in the Magic Practice room and it’s also easy to move around because the room is really wide.

The teachers started making the preparations when we arrived at the Magic Lab. Because Smith-sensei looked like he had some free time, I tried to start a conversation with him.

“Smith-sensei, are there any penalties for breaking a Magic Practice room?”

“N? Well, none. Usually, there aren’t any cases where all the barriers are broken. Besides the problem lay with the barrier that got broken.”

“Is that so, I am so relieved.”

Smith-sensei smiled widely at my reply. Although he was strict while in class he is a good teacher.

After a while Ron-sensei and Edi-sensei returned.

“Thank you for waiting. Please release the magic at that target.”

Like that I nod at Ron-sensei while he pointed at the target.

Because I didn't have a cane I point my right hand at the target and start the chant.

"O windstorm swallow everything, Tornado!"

gogogogogo~~~

Just like in the Magic Practice room, together with the rumbled ground a wind vortex started to swallow the target and suddenly the wind vortex started taking the form of a Tornado until it reached the ceiling in the blink of an eye.

It was somewhat dull when I compared it with a Tornado that came down from the sky to the ground, the Tornado steadily got bigger and it seems like the barrier and the Tornado collided at the ceiling. Just like that time, I started to hear cracking sounds.

"This is bad! Edi-sensei the barrier!!"

"... Yes!"

Ron-sensei and Edi-sensei started to restore a barrier that almost broke, but the restoration speed can't be compared with the Tornado power.

"This is not good"

After saying that Smith-sensei was hugging me to protect me.

Sniff~ Sniff~

A sweat and perfume smell blended together.

Other-world service is way too excessive.

“Kuuu, Emil Vorst! Stop your magical power supply!!”

“He?”

Ron-sensei was shouting while restoring the barrier.

Magical Power Supply? What is that? Hasn't a magic that is successfully invoked already consumed the necessary Magical Power??

My mind suddenly goes blank and at that time I can hear Smith-sensei saying “Sorry about this”, and then I lost my consciousness.

When I came to I'm still in the Magic Lab, and I can see Smith-sensei's face was looking down at me. Seems like I was fainted not for too long. Somehow the back of my neck hurts.

Did I get hit with a hand chop?

The Magic Lab's barrier somehow endured the Tornado, it must be the result of the teachers hard work. Smith-sensei lifted and held my upper-half body from the ground.

“Etto, ano. I am very sorry for troubling you.”

“No, it was me who made you faint. I'm sorry.”

Smith-sensei helped me to stand up. And there I saw Ron-sensei and Edi-sensei who were in completely exhausted state sitting down on a place that slightly far away.

“Are the teachers okay?”

“Though there is a barrier they might had used too much magic power, it's okay.”

“The confirmation is already done so, may I return now?”

“N, Aa. It’s okay, but.... Please don’t use that magic again. Until the 2nd years season starts just stick with the basic magic if you want to practice.”

While giving me an advice, Smith-sensei pat my head. The Skinship felt really over-familiar but because he is not a bad person, it’s not unpleasant.

“Excuse me”

After I said that I returned to the dorm.

It was already evening when I left the academy, I felt like there will be a sermon waiting for me so I quickly returned to the dorm.

Chapter 5

~~TL note : Changed Smight to Smith here.~~

Volume 1 Chapter 5: Teachers' Agony

"Oi Ron, Edi, are you both okay?"

Just after Emil left the Magic Lab, Smith called these two who still sat on the ground.

"Ee, no problem."

"... I'm, okay."

"Well, let's begin the clean up then. It's bad if we didn't do it right? What a pain..."

"It is so, first let's begin with summarizing the damage in this Lab. We have to write a report about this too."

Ron took out a pen and memo from his pocket.

Fortunately, the damage in the Lab is just the target that already became splinters everywhere. The Lab condition was still just like it was before they used it.

After that Ron and Edi checked the barrier's condition.

Because Smith only has a little knowledge about magic, he's just loitering around the Lab.

As for the result there are only 2 layers of the barrier remaining in the Lab, more accurately only 1 layer of the barrier was fine while the other one was damaged.

"We need to prepare some specialists...."

Ron muttered quietly.

As a teacher in charge of magic instruction, he is able to strengthen the barrier but it is much better to leave it to an expert in this field.

One should go to the expert for better results.

After that they headed to the Magic Practice's room number 2.

While on the way, Smith said

"You know, I don't really know anything about magic so can I return first?"

"No, I'll make sure we check it together."

He was reproved by his junior, Ron.

Linking both of his hands behind his head, Smith followed Ron and Edi unwillingly from behind.

"It is indeed a disastrous scene when you're seeing it again."

When they come back to the Magic Practice's room number 2 and open the door, they saw countless cut-like scratches inside the room.

Was the target damaged to splinters or was it cut to splinters by the wind, it can't be distinguished anymore.

It's probably both. That is the conclusion from Ron and Edi.

"In spite of these many scratches in this room, there aren't any wounds on Jou-chan's body even though she was blown away too."

"I think it's strange too. Usually when magic is invoked, the caster will received same influence from the magic too."

「そうですね。私もおかしいと思っています。通常魔法を使った場合、本人にも魔法の影響が出ます」(TL note : not really sure here.) "N? What do you mean?"

"For example, when fire magic was used and we were surrounded inside the flame we will get burnned right?"

"Isn't it obvious?"

"Yes, It is obvious. The other person will get burned if they were surrounded inside the flame. But, this time there aren't any injuries on her. This is what I can think of,

1. She was protected by a barrier.
2. She tempered the magic to not influence her.
3. She possess a magic item to prevent the damage.

Around these three I guess? I thought about a super-recovery magic too, but because there isn't any damage on her clothes I think it's different this time."

"I think it's not number 1, she didn't receive any injuries but she was blown away by the shockwave. It's not, number 3 either.... I didn't sense any magic item..."

"I guess so. So is it number 2...? I can't say anything about this because I've never seen it before."

Edi moderately stated his opinions to Smith and Ron. After having investigated the room, they locked the door and returned to the staff office.

"Aaa so tired..."

"After this we have to write a report too. Smith-sensei can you write down some data about her? Please write about when she was in the class you're in charge of. I was in charge of her Magic Practical Skill class so I will write a report about it. Edi-sensei please collect more information about Tornado magic."

"... Yes."

The youngest Ron took charge and they started to work.

Each of them start to write a report for what they have been assigned to and as a result when they finished the moon already shone in the night sky.

Chapter 6

Volume 1 Chapter 6: Splurging Before Return Home

When I just returned from the academy to the dorm, I was scolded by Cecillia.

Cecillia who is 5 years older than me has smooth wavy milk-tea colored long hair that neatly gathered behind her head, and she has drop-shaped eyes that are light brown in colour, a lovely Onee-san. And that lovely Onee-san currently has a blood-vein on her forehead while she's bending the upper half of her body forward facing me, this is the first time I'm seeing her like this.

She is usually calm, so when I saw her angry like this, it was scary. But, I was somehow happy because that means that she cares for me.

"Emil-sama, we will be departing from here in two days. We will return to the mansion at Ulmerk Territory so please make some preparations."

"He?"

To Cecillia's sudden bombshell, I accidentally let out a gasp.

In response to my unusual reaction Cecillia tilted her head.

Certainly, she told me about preparations to return home this morning, but isn't it just too early? To tell the truth I don't want to go home, but after that accident we have a long period holiday so that means I can't not to go home....

"Emil-sama, you have somehow changed after that incident."

"Is that so?.... Well, maybe I changed a little."

It seems like to Cecillia it's not an accident but an incident.

Perhaps the real "Me" will show up more frequently from now on so I gave a confirmation to Cecillia. I want to get along well with Cecillia from now on and if possible I wish that she is able to accept the real me. Is it slightly impudent of me I wonder?

Let's leave it for now, before returning home there are still a lot of things that I want to do!

First comes getting a cane to use magic, even without a cane I can still use magic but it can be used as blunt weapon, or I can sit on it and use it as a magic broom like a witch..... well it looks like that'd hurt so let's just hold on it and fly into the sky. And I still haven't tried a magic for flying yet. Now that I've come to think of it, I still haven't seen people flying, is warping more popular I wonder?

And after that come commoner's clothes that are made from cloth! The Academy's uniform and Noble's clothes are stand out too much at downtown. They can be used to travel incognito so they are indispensable! I can completely turn into a commoner!!! Tte I'm a commoner inside, so it's probably my true nature.

"Nee Cecillia. I want to go out shopping tomorrow, can I?"

"Yes, of course! Please leave the arrangements for the carriage to me."

"Thank you, please do."

Cecillia returns a smile to me when I smile. So cute! I want to hug her!

As had been promised yesterday, I'm going to the Royal Capital's commercial district together with Cecillia. Today I'm wearing a dark-green one-piece dress with long sleeves with a cuff around it and a hat, they're just plain clothes, but I sense a few glances around me so I might stand out a little. By the way there are no guards escorting us so I have to be careful.

The first store I went to is the cane store. There are cane stores in the academy too so in the Royal Capital there should be a more advanced line-up, because I couldn't use magic until now I never needed a cane and I have never entered the stores too.

When I entered the store and looked around there were canes varying from short 30cm canes to 2 meter long canes, each with a varying type and length being showcased around the store.

"Hoaa~"

"Welcome, are you looking for something?"

Perhaps because my behavior was suspicious, while I was looking around restlessly with my mouth open the clerk greeted me.

Un, if I were the clerk I would do the same too.

“I am looking for a cane that has high durability and can be used as a blunt weapon, do you have it?”

“Blu-blunt weapon is it? Then a metal type cane would be better. I will go look for it so please wait a minute.”

Is it because I said blunt weapon? Cecillia who was beside me was looking at me with reproachful gaze. You see, isn't it better to be prepared just in case of an emergency? It is right? right?? Yes it is! And that's what I told Cecillia, but she didn't quite get it.

“Sorry to keep you waiting.”

The clerk put a few canes with different colors and shapes on the counter. Each of them seems to have different uses, I don't know which one I should choose. After all this is the first time I'm buying a cane personally. Let's hear an opinion from the pro first.

“Ano, this is the first time I'm buying a cane so.... etto, are there any canes that only choose its own owner?”

The clerk was like “Ah this girl heard too many fairytales.” while looking at me with a lukewarm gaze.

Un, I know. There's no way such an Intelligent Weapon exists.

“Did you mean a weapon that has an affinity that's compatible with the owner? If that's the case then there is a weapon like that, but it is a very valuable weapon so even we in this store have never seen it before. As soon as it was discovered, it was taken and put in an armory that's managed by people from the Royal Palace.”

“Is that so. Thank you very much for telling me.”

I know right~~ I almost unintentionally said that.

But if it really exists then is it possible for me to obtain it I wonder?

Nope, no way. There's no way I can just enter an armory that's managed by people from the Royal Palace, and I don't think I will be chosen by the weapon too. For now let's go with what I can get first.

I bought a cane after consulting with the clerk. It cost 5 gold coins, in Japan it's about 50.000 Yen I guess. My personal savings were gone just in a minute. Even though I am a Noble Lady, I don't have an allowance that can be wasted because I'm hated by the head family. At the tip of the cane there is a buffalo's skeleton pointing it's horn forward, and it was designed in great detail until its ribs. Inside the ribs, there is a magic stone placed at the center with the Darkness magic attribute. Of course I paid for that too.

From the outside it sure looks ominous, it was colored in silver and quite shiny, and for the grip it used some kind of rubber rolled on it for anti-skid. Swing OK, Hit OK. Looking at Cecillia's eyes she seemed to want to say something but I activated the Ignoring Skill.

After that we went to the downtown area that's filled with stores that are selling accessories and clothes for males and females. A shopkeeper was giving a doubtful glance to my attire, but I said it was a present from my servant and he started to ignore it.

I came to this area incognito to look for some clothes. I want some male clothes, especially a trouser, it will be easy to move around in it. Because I don't want to wear a long skirt while going on an adventure.

After that I felt quite hungry so I bought a grilled skewer and ate it while walking. Cecillia had this super scary face while looking at me, scary. I might get scolded later. Well, a Lady will never do something like eating while walking right. Somehow people around were looking at me. It was embarrassing so I quickly ran to a small alley and finished the grilled skewer with one bite.

The flavor was strong, the oil trickled down, what a supreme taste!

".....!"

"...."

".....!"

For some reason it was very noisy in the alley, I want to go take a look there but I feel like it would only bring trouble to me. But peeping a little is okay right?

Chapter 7

Author note: From this point onward, without prior notice a harsh representation and character, such as R15 elements will be used.

Volume 1 Chapter 7: In The Back Alley

While suppressing my voice I slowly enter the alley. Cecillia tried to stop me but I can't ignore my curiosity to look at a cliché setting that usually shows up in a novel or a game. The voices gradually get clearer so I stopped right before the corner.

"This damn brat! Don't start getting cocky!!"

"Seriously. Even though you're just a weakling, if you just do as we said you wouldn't need to experience this you know."

"Gu..... kaha!!"

I heard a male's shouting and a male's faint laughing, and probably groaning from someone who's getting assaulted. I quickly grab Cecillia's hand and return to the main street.

"Cecillia, quickly call the guards for me."

"Yes! Certainly. ... Emil-sama will go together with me right?"

"I will return to that place, I have to know what exactly happened there."

"Wha!? I can't allow it!! It's too dangerous!"

"Just go! Do you want that child to die!?"

I still don't know who the one who's getting attacked is, but the voice sounds like a child. If I can I want to help, that's what I thought, although my real intention is that I don't want to miss this chance to use magic.

After that I pushed Cecillia's back and return to the alley. I use my cane that I just bought and a skewer from the grilled skewers as my weapons, the cane was wrapped in a black cloth because it has quite the appearance after all. I return to the same corner from not long ago. The sounds of shouting and groaning from before still can be heard. When I slowly peek around the corner, there are 4 men and 1 dog in clothes was laid down on the ground and then, one of the men's eyes meets mine.

"Oi, what are you looking at? This is not for show. Pay if you want to watch."

When he said that while grinning, simultaneously all the others man were looking at me. All the men's attire was so gaudy that they reminded me of ruffians that usually appear in V-Shine from my previous life. I don't feel like running so I show myself.

"Hyuu~ ♪Isn't it some Ojou-chan we have here."

"Waa, It seems we're really lucky today."

"Abduct OK, Sell OK."

"Hahaha, it's okay if we play with her too."

Aren't those some cliché lines there!!? It's really like in some TV drama, I'm almost smirking there but animal abuse is no good, absolutely!

"It's not good to abuse an animal! Release that dog immediately!"

I try to imitate a certain maid-san, they don't know where the parody come from so there's no tsukkomi. But they just come closer while grinning. In this region they considered someone as an adult when they become 15 years old, a 13 years old girl is still a child and there's no way they can win against an over 20 years old man in power.

Usually, that is.

“Stop. I don't care what would happen to you if you ignore my warning.”

I take the cane from my back and hold it forward in exaggerated move. I don't want the cane to be seen so I keep the cloth like that. With this if they still come closer then I just need to attack them with magic.

“Is this girl a magician?”

One of the man said that and all of them stop with a twitch.

“Don't care! Just get her before she finish the chant!!”

While saying that one of the man tried to strike me with a fist.

“<Stun>”

The man fell down with a plop like his strings have been cut when I finish the short chant.

Uwaaa~ face first. That seems to be hurt. Anyway, the faint magic is a success! Game knowledge is really wonderful. I made the other trembling men faint too with <Stun> magic.

When I was done with them, I approached the dog. The dog was only kicked when it attacked so its blood has not gone out so much. I use <Scan> to check its condition. Bone fractures at several places, there are some parts of the bones that struck internal organs too. Pitiful.... Seriously what nerve they had to torment an animal. Making them faint as punishment is not enough. It's very regrettable that I still can't control my magic. I don't want to be a murderer yet.

I give the dog a <Heal> and check it again with <Scan> but it's still not good. Bruises on the skin and bone fractures can be healed but the wound on internal organs can't be healed. Maybe apart from skin and bone, the way I imagine it when casting <Heal> was different when I used it to heal internal organ. If I was a doctor in my previous life I might be able to do better than this.

However, it's frustrating if I give up here. Healing magic is very important magic because it affects life and death, it is a must to have 1 person with Healer job in a party, it's very convenient if I can use it too...

I was thinking about something while patting the dog's head.

"That's it!"

Pikon~

A small light bulb was flashing on top of my head! The flesh, what if I just rewind the damaged part to before it was damaged, isn't it going to solve the problem!? The present exists because there is a past, I just have to rewind time until right before it was attacked. And while at it let's try some experiments.

"<Rollback Heal>"

I chant the magic toward the sleeping dog, suddenly a gear-like magic circle appear and there's a needle like a clock in the middle of it turning reverse. It's has an effect like in a game, somehow it's cool. My Chuuni heart was tickled.

When the effect was gone I used <Scan> and checked the dog again, the internal organs were completely healed. I'm so glad.

“Are you okay?”

I put the cane on my back and tried to talk to the dog but it's still not waking up. It was breathing so I don't think it is dead, let's pat it. Its fur is slightly stiff but when touching it, it's not so bad. Cecillia and the guards have not come yet, and because it's been a long time since I've played with a dog I decided to enjoy it while the dog is still sleeping. I keep patting from the head to the back, and because it's still not enough I bury my face under the neck and smell it. It has a dog's smell, but I don't hate it. And if I had to say it, I even smelled the inside of the ear too.

I-It's not like I have a fetish in a smell okay!

Even so this dog, why is it wearing clothes? And when I check it again there's a bag like a waist pouch on its hips. Even those ruffians called this dog a brat, why did they not call it a beast or something? Is this some kind of common sense in a different world?

“Emil-sama, are you okay?”

Cecillia who was running out of breath came back with some guards.

“Ee, I am okay. There's no problem.”

“Tte, What is.... this?”

“I made them faint with magic. I don't know when they will wake up so it should be better to take them now.”

After I said that to Cecillia and the guards, some of the guards start to tie them up with a rope and take them away.

“I am the Captain of 18th Guard Platoon, Howl.”

“I am the Vice-Captain, Fan.”

“My name is Emil Vorst, this maid’s name is Cecillia.”

Two of the guards come forward and introduce themselves, I reply to them by introducing myself and Cecillia.

“An aristocrat....”

Howl muttered while looking at my attire.

“Tell me the situation.”

“I heard a sound from which it seemed like some trouble was occurring in the alley. From the sound I heard it seemed like a couple of men were assaulting a child so I told Cecillia to go to your place. I made sure to keep lookout so they could not escape, but I was found out so I made them faint with magic, the child.... No, it’s a dog, after that I gave a treatment to the dog.”

Even though Howl knows I’m an aristocrat he still talked to me with a haughty attitude. I was somewhat angry, but it seems like around this area there are lots of fighting scenes occurring so they probably can’t handle it well.

“Ano, Emil-sama. This dog... though I’m not really sure how to call it, isn’t this a Juujin?!”

“E?! They exist? This dog is a Juujin? Not just a dog in a clothes? Don’t Juujin usually have a body like a human and moe animal ears and a tail?!”

“Emil-sama, I don’t know what are you talking about but Juujin can change their appearance to human and animal.”

“Etto, so you mean this dog is wearing clothes because it is a Juujin....?”

“Yes. Though there are some pets that get dressed up, it’s only some of the upper-class people who do that, but it is only for a small pet, I never saw a big pet like this get dressed up.”

“Seriously....?” (TL note : written in katakana here, マジか.)

“Serious... ly?” (TL note : written in here hiragana here, まじか.)

My thoughts slipped out there. It’s hard to keep being a Lady. And the guards’ gazes hurt.

“Is your talk over? This is certainly a Juujin. We will take care of it from here. Fan”

“Yes, Captain.”

Fan put the dog, no.... the Juujin on her shoulder and returned to the main street.

“I will have you two to come along too, I want to hear the detailed situation”

“I just explained the whole situation a while ago. There is nothing for me to explain anymore. Between those men and the Juujin, I can’t clearly tell who’s the one who started the dispute. I will leave it to Captain-sama to handle it.”

“Wha!? You don’t want to cooperate!?”

“I stopped the dispute, healed the injury, explained the situation. Is that still not enough for me as an aristocrat to cooperate there? I am quite busy, we will take our leave from here. Cecillia, let’s return.”

“Yes, Emil-sama.”

It's troublesome so I don't want to go to the guard station. I successfully stopped the Captain by showing my authority as an aristocrat while I spoke like a Lady.

Did Cecillia know what I intended to? She readily obeyed me with an attitude as a maid more than usual. Although she is cute, she is a very capable person.

When I glance at the Captain, Giri~ he was holding his anger by grinding his teeth. A young girl said that with a haughty attitude, of course he will be angry. He somehow really hates aristocrats. I leave that place while pretending not see him.

The next day, Cecillia told me the details she learned about yesterday's disputes.

When the Juujin want to go out shopping, those ruffians extorted money from him but he wanted to resist them and that's where he got beaten. It's just an everyday situation that always happening at the old town. Seems like those ruffians was got released on bail today. Incomprehensible.

Thanks to my treatment the Juujin was unhurt, and when he awoke, was he surprised or not? But I'm really glad he's okay. We probably wouldn't be meeting again so I hope you live in good health.

Now then, from now on it's going to take 4 days until we reach home by carriage. There is only anxiety when I think about meeting my family.....

1 . V-Shine/V-Cinema. Searching about them in google, all i found was a Yakuza on some movie covers.

2. Juujin. Human-Beast.

Volume 1 Chapter 8 : Home

After traveling by carriage I finally arrive home.

My father is a feudal lord in Ulmerk territory, the distance from here to the royal capital is relatively short. Though there are no particularly famous specialty-products here, this territory is dotted with agricultural lands and one of the Kingdom's post towns. It's almost the same as Saitama Prefecture from Japan.

Even though I have experienced this several times, traveling by carriage still makes my waist and buttocks hurt. I wish I had something to reduce the vibrations.

I held onto Cecilia's hand and got off of the carriage. And when I went to the mansion, I was greeted by the servants and the butler Gregor.

"Welcome home, Ojousama"

"I'm home. Are father and mother here? I want to greet them."

“I am very sorry. Master and Mistress are out for an inspection around the territory right now, they will return in few days.”

“I see, thank you. Then what about Sieg-oniisama, is he here?”

“Yes, as the representative of the feudal lord he is in the study right now. Should I convey your arrival?”

“Ee, please do.”

“Certainly.”

After talking with the butler Gregor who has been serving this family for years, it has been decided that he will convey news of my visit to big brother. Because we are family we never call or inform each other about our visits beforehand.

This might only be possible for aristocrats that are close to their family.

Because I still have time I return to my own room and drink a cup of tea while waiting to meet with big brother. 2 hours later, Gregor was knocking at the door.

“Emil-ojousama, Sieg-sama will meet you in the reception room.”

“I will go there now.”

I follow Gregor from behind, while Cecillia was following behind me. When we arrive at the reception room Gregor announces our arrival and opens the door.

“Sieg-oniisama, I have just returned.”

I greet big brother inside the room after confirming the door was closed.

“Ha! You’ve done well for returning safely, younger sister.” (TL note: he said 愚妹/gumai, not 妹/imouto)

Big brother was sitting on the sofa with his arms crossed, and I feel like he was sneering at me and making fun of me. Though he usually makes fun of me.

“Sieg-oniisama, it seems like I caused you great trou-“You did!!!””

“His Highness, the Knight Duke, the next Court Magician and the Light Miko. Just what exactly are you thinking to cause them all trouble!!”

Big brother interrupts me with deafening voice. He probably heard about the Conviction’s Event from the academy. By the way, the Light Miko is Bitch-chan. Seems like she was appointed as Light Miko by the Temple because of her ability as a Light Magic user even though she is a commoner.

“I did not do anything to cause them a trouble. It is just a misunderstanding.”

“I don’t care if you cause trouble or not. What I do care about is the damage you cause when you made His Highness as your enemy and that’s already become a rumor and spread everywhere!”

“I am very sorry.”

Aristocrats don’t want to dirty their names, and it’s not an exaggeration to say big brothers dignity comes first and foremost.

“Good grief, with this problem and in addition with unattractive appearance there is no way you can be used for political marriage. Naa my incompetent imouto. If you were beautiful like Merifa and have a smile like a flower there’s no way this kind of thing would ever happen.”

Pikuri, I feel my eyebrow were twitching. My big brother was talking about my 20 year old big sister, Merifa. Big sister has soft milk-tea colored hair and light blue eyes, just like my mother. When my big sister smile, all the men around her will show a slovenly face. That's how beautiful she is as a Lady and as a wife.

In Noble Society at Royal Capital, to be considered beautiful women need to have light coloured hair, while a dark-blue hair like mine is not considered beautiful. My hair color is 100% heredity from father so it's not my fault, I myself am pleased with my face shape that is coupled with dignity like an archer woman. It doesn't really matter but can you put on glasses when using sarcasm? It's looks more moe that way. Though it doesn't really matter.

"I am very sorry."

I repeat an insincere apology at the best opportunity presented. If he is already like this, what I say won't matter to him, I already knew this from before I entered the academy at 12 years old.

"Humph, can you use magic now that you've entered the academy?"

"No, I'm afraid not."

"Can't use magic even though you have magic power, are you putting in enough effort?"

"I am very sorry."

Without hesitation I tell a lie. If I said I could use magic I will surely be used like a tool, please excuse me from that! My stress has already pass through Mach(マッハ) speed and almost ready to explode, is there somebody willing to help me?

However, a Hero will surely appear and until then I have to parry the Demon Lor.... Big brother's sarcasms to the left and right.

When it becomes dark I some how manage to leave, I want to die.

Chapter 9 : Fiancee Candidate

Because I was irritated after meeting big brother, for three days I wrote a R18+ doujin novel titled [Thief X Big Brother]. I don't have any regrets. I wrote it in Japanese anyway so even if someone found it they can't read it.

Which reminds me, it will be new years in two weeks, I guess father will come home soon.

In this Kingdom 1 week is 6 days, 1 month is 30 days, 1 year is 12 months and the new year party is usually held in the first week of the 12th month. The Academy has a long holiday period after new year party. The 1st month in the new year will be used to spend time together with family, and in the 2nd and 3rd months it will be the season where the Upper Class nobles spend time at their mansions in the Royal Capital. Because the academy's new term starts in the 5th month it will be a long holiday for 5 months. The holiday is too long(LOL).

By the way this Kingdom doesn't have four seasons, it just changes between spring and winter every 6 months.

The next day, father and mother return from their inspection of the territory. After we finished our greetings we go and have dinner together, I was told to go to the reception room after dinner. It's probably about the Conviction's Event. Big brother's gaze was hurt.

By the way whenever we passed by each other in the corridor he would spew sarcastic words at me. He has always been like that since a long time ago, perhaps it is his Passive Skill, I guess. Seems like I can finish volume 2 of the doujin soon. Gufufu~

After dinner, I head to the reception room as I was told. When I received permission to enter, I saw my parents and big brother were sitting on the sofa.

"Excuse me"

"Saa Emil, take a sit. Please prepare some tea."

After mother invites me to sit on the sofa in front of her, she orders the maid to prepare a cup of tea for me.

"Everyone has heard about what happened at the academy."

"I am very sorry for all the trouble I have caused you, father."

"Let's leave that for now, let's talk about what will be happen from now on."

"What will be happen from now on....?"

Father was looking at me with a sharp glint in his eye. Isn't that "a look that can kill people" thing!? It is scary even though he's my father!!

"There is a marriage proposal from the Grouge Knight Duke house for you."

"Ge!..."

My face immediately cramps up. Is that it!? That foreshadowing was for this!? What a day!!

My family's peerage is Count, while they are a Knight Duke. Though not a pure noble they have a higher position as an aristocrat, and it seems like their ancestors have royal blood flowing in their veins too, they must have been bestowed territory after having some great achievements.

“Though we don’t have a reason to reject it, I decide to put it on hold for the time being.”

“I understand. I will leave it to your judgment, father.”

“That’s all. You may leave.”

“Yes, excuse me.”

When I return to my bedroom, “Don’t, joke with meeeeeeeee!!!!” I push a pillow to my face and yell with everything I’ve got.

“It must be that right? He told his family that he injured a woman, and was told “Just what are you doing to hurt an innocent woman like that! As a man take responsibility!!” he was told like that right!? At that time when he apologized to me he was so hateful about it too. You see, I too think that a political marriage is a thing that can’t be helped. Ee, that is a thing that can’t be helped. But, the Favorable points are in minus you know? Please, at least make it zero from the start.

.... And moreover, isn’t that guy in love with Bitch-chan...?”

I didn’t tell anyone about this, I just talked to myself while burying my face in my pillow. Ahh~ I want to cry. What made me want to cry you ask? A boy is giving up a girl he loves, and it was decided he will be married to a girl that he hates. I just feel pity for him that almost turned me into an oba-chan, as an ex-Japanese. I want to quickly cancel the engagement if I can. My injury has already healed anyway, but I have to make both parties agree to cancel the engagement! Apart from my side, their side doesn’t seem to get any benefits from the engagement.

I somehow calm down a little after talking to myself for a while and then I heard a knocking sound, Cecilia enter the room when I gave her permission.

“Emil-sama, are you okay? I heard a loud voice from outside.”

“E, Ee. I just lost my composure a little.... there’s no problem.”

“Please don’t push yourself so hard. If there is something I can help you with, please ask me anything.”

“....!”

I start wailing and hug Cecillia. I just don’t know what to do anymore because so much stress has accumulated. Cecillia is seriously an angel. Her chest was so soft, guhehe~

After crying for awhile, my tears dry and I fall asleep.

The next day when I woke up my eyes were swollen, because I don’t want to see my family with swollen eyes I told someone to guard my room. With this I can train my magic secretly too, it’s killing two bird with one stone. I was a hikikomori anyway.

From morning until evening I tried various types of magic inside my room, from flying magic <Fly>, teleportation magic <Warp>, to an everyday life magic, I can use them all. Incidentally I can use magic canceller too, for example when I use <Tornado> I am also able to erase it.

In this world, there are elements of fantasy like monsters and dungeons that also exist. There’s a legend about a Hero, so there should be Demon race too. However, monsters are not encountered around the Kingdom, not inside the forests, valleys, and any other areas. There have been no encounters with Demon race either. The encounter ratio of Demi-humans is so low that it was like encountering a foreigner in Japan during the 80s, which means that this is a human dominant region.

An occupation that I’ve always dreamed of having, being an Adventurer and going around the Kingdom, is already outdated. Joining the Mercenary Guild is what’s popular in the Kingdom these days. People in the Royal Capital prefer personal battles (pvp) more than monster subjugation. If I had to say it, a war will occur too.

After all the trouble I went through to train my magic, I can’t become an Adventurer and make a living. I am an aristocrat so I don't need to worry about my living, but I still want to live as an Adventurer like how I have always dreamed.

For the time being let's continue to practice magic, make items and sword training, no.... blunt weapon training during this holiday period and aim to become an Adventurer!

Everyday I stay inside my room to practice magic, make items and train in blunt weapon over and over again. When the new year is just three days away my second eldest brother Aslein-niisama returns home.

Chapter 10 Kidnapped (1)

What is this I wonder. My hands that were free a while ago are now bound and there is a gag in my mouth that is shaped like the ^ character. Even my eyes are blindfolded tightly too. And how I got stuck in this situation? It begins 2 days ago.

“Welcome home, Lein-oniisama!”

“I’m home, Emil!”

My second eldest brother Aslein-niisama, one of the Vorst houses sons has returned home. Lein-niisama is 17 years old, 4 years older than me and he is also a member of the 3rd Order of Knights in the Royal Capital. He has short milk-tea colored hair the same as mother and he has purple eyes the same as fathers, with a face that’s similar to mothers, he looks like an Ikemen from a J-idol group.

There is a reason why I feel a large amount of tension whenever I meet Lein-niisama. It’s because in this family, the only one who understands me is Lein-niisama. He protects me from eldest brother sarcasm, a person I can be open with, the niisama that I can be proud of.

When I greet him, Lein-niisama hugs me tightly and pats my head.

“Long time no see, Emil.”

It's somehow embarrassing but I'm very happy.

After that I talk to Lein-niisama about the academy and Lein-niisama talks to me about the Knights while we enjoy tea. Lein-niisama still doesn't know about the Conviction's Event at the academy, and when I told him the story he was angry for me. I'm very happy with Lein-niisama's kindness that hasn't changed after all this time. He's just like the ideal big brother from a 2D world.

And when we were enjoying our time together there was a small figure approaching Lein-niisama from behind.

"Lein-oniisama, it's not fair if you just talk to Emil-neesama."

"Aa, sorry Haru."

After she said that, she puffed out her cheeks and Lein-niisama picked her up and put her on his lap. Haru or Harutia is my little sister and she always acts cute, but all of it just a sly act.

Harutia is my 6 year old little sister, she has milk-tea colored straight hair that stretches below her shoulders and sharp blue eyes .

The reason I never mentioned her until now is because I'm not very good at dealing with her.

She's selfish, has high self-esteem, and she's a girl that likes to dress up. Because of eldest brother's influence she has always looked down on me.

For her to come here must be because she's not happy with me talking with Lein-niisama who she likes so much.

"What are you talking about with Emil-neesama?"

"Just about some shopping I want to do together with Emil. There are some shops I want to go to before they close."

Haru asked while she tilts her head cutely and Lein-niisama answers her with a smile. That calculating ability in 6 year old, I really can't copy her.

"Lein-oniisama! Me too, I want to go too!"

"Un, but you have to ask for permission from father and mother first okay?"

"Yes! I will go ask them right now!"

And thus after she got permission from father and mother we go together to Edibara(エディバラ) town that is closeby.

Traveling from mansion to Edibara town will take 2 hours by carriage, it's quite a big town that has a school, public offices, shops and houses that stand in a row. Though this town doesn't have the same air as the Royal Capital, this town is a good place to settle down. For public order, it can be said to be normal, for this world, but if it is compared with Japan this town's public order is quite bad.

In the carriage are Lein-niisama, Haru, Haru's maid Chikona, me and Cecillia. And also there are 2 guards following us on horse beside the carriage. The inside of the carriage isn't cramped because Haru is sitting on Lein-niisama's lap.

"Emil-neesama, are you seriously going out in that outfit?"

"Ee, I don't like to attract attention."

"Are you not ashamed as a noble lady?"

"I'm not."

"I am ashamed just by walking together with Emil-neesama in that outfit."

"I see, then let's go seperately today."

"Now now you two, let's just enjoy the trip together. Okay?"

Haru was looking at me like she was looking at something dirty. Even before she was aware of her surroundings, she already hated me like this just like eldest brother. Lein-nisama can only smile with a troubled face while he tries to calm us down.

I wear the commoner clothes that Cecillia and I bought before at the downtown area in the royal capital. I just want to do some shopping today without attracting attention so I decided to wear these clothes. On the other hand, Haru is wearing a dress made from high-quality fabric coupled with shining gems as her accessory. She is indeed your typical noble daughter. While Lein-nisama wears simple clothes of good quality.

Just like before we pick up our conversation where we left off until we arrive in Edibara town. And when I'm about to go a separate way, Lein-nisama stopped me.

"No, Emil just you and the maid alone is dangerous. We already came here together so let's go shopping together too."

"It's okay, I've already been taught sword arts and martial arts at the academy. And it's also inefficient to go together with this many people...."

"Emil, we're go together. Understood?"

"..... Yes"

There's no smile on Lein-nisama's face when he repeated what he said. Scary....

It can't be helped so I can only agree. Since Lein-nisama still doesn't know I can use magic now, as a knight he must think it would be unforgivable to let two frail woman act on their own. While thinking like that, Lein-nisama and Haru hold hands while I follow behind them. When we arrive at a place that was quite far from the main street, Haru stops. There's a one-piece dress with a flower pattern ribbon that is suitable for children being displayed in the shop's window.

“Lein-oniisama, I want to go into that shop!”

“Un, okay.”

When we enter the shop, a smiling shopkeeper who looks like a good natured person greets us.

“Welcome ojou-sama, are you looking for something?”

“I would like you to show me that dress on display over there.”

Haru points at a dress that is being displayed in the shop window.

“Certainly.”

After the shopkeeper said that, he asks the maid about Haru’s size and brings the same dress out from inside the shop. When he gives the dress to Haru, he recommends Haru tries on the dress. Is it because he found someone to showcase their product? As expected from a pro, his marketing skills are really wonderful.

“Yes, let me try it on!”

“Well now, while the lady changes her dress, how about some tea for her companions?”

“Thank you very much. Haru, take Chikona together with you.”

“No need, let her wait for me while you enjoy the tea. I will take this one to help me change.”

“Eh?”

She mustn’t want to call me her sister while she is in front of the shopkeeper because of my commoner clothes, she forcefully takes me into the changing room. It can’t be helped so I just look at Lein-niisama over my shoulder, he was troubled whether or not to let Haru do as she likes, but it seems like he decided to let Haru do as she likes.

When we enter the changing room that opens inside a small room, Haru talks to me with stern face.

“I want to continue shopping together with Lein-oniisama alone. You are a nuisance, so please go somewhere else quickly!!”

“I want to do that too. But, if I didn’t do as he said he will be angry.”

“You don’t have to listen to what he says! You just need to go somewhere else! Understood?”

“If I just suddenly leave like that he will search for me. And your shopping trip will finish too, is that okay with you?”

“Uuuuu~~~~!!!!!!”

Did she not think about that? Her face turns red as she starts to cry. Did I say too much I wonder? I am rarely in touch with her so I don’t know how to act.

For now because we’re already here I help Haru change her clothes, suddenly I hear a rustling sound from the wall. Even though this shop looks like a fairly secure store they have a very thin wall, when I thought that, “Induce those people to fall asleep, <Sleep>” I heard someone chant an aria. Haru suddenly loses her strength and collapses to her knees.

“Wait..... Haru!?”

I was able to catch her small body before she fell to the floor. I want to praise myself! Well enough of that, for someone to make Haru fall asleep with magic, I need to get away from this place immediately. The moment I put Haru on my shoulder, several men barge in from the entrance and from the wall.... a door that that is hidden behind the wall..

“.....!!!!”

My voice didn't come out when I tried shouting for help. They must have prepared a silence spell without our realising it. Though these men are surprised because I was still able to move, they quickly catch me and I lose consciousness

And thus, we return to the beginning of a certain prologue.

Chapter 11 Kidnapped (2)

With my wrist and ankle bound, my voice didn't come out like what I wanted to. What's more, it really hurt to not know the situation of my surroundings because of the blindfold. That was careless of me to let those men kidnap me.... or more like I fell into a slight panic there. The reason why I wasn't affected with the <Sleep> magic must be because I was more superior than the caster; if they were better, they should be able to cast magic without aria. I never thought I would fall into these kinds of incidents like in some foreign movie. It's already too late to regret; for now I should go looking for Haru first.

I cast <Wide Area Scan> magic without an aria to look at my surroundings.

Why?! Calm down, take a deep breath and calm down, I repeatedly said this in my mind.

As I continue to take deep breaths, I can smell something like clay and dust. It must be from the bricks and stones. And when I attempted to hear clearly, I could hear a crying sound and a talking voice reverberating from the floor. I am clearly inside a building, not in a carriage nor an open place.

I started to rub my face a few times against the floor to let the blindfold slide off a little. Still, the rubbed part started to prickle; this might be about to leave a scratch. When I opened my eyes, I saw something like a complex pattern drawn on the floor, and it was shining slightly. The room's size is about three tatami with the door made from iron. With some effort, I lifted my upper half body, then realized that the drawn pattern on the floor was a magic circle. There is only me in this room; Haru's not here. Even if she is an arrogant brat, she is just a 6 year old girl. I have to save her quickly.

I'm not good at dealing with Haru, but that doesn't mean I wish for a misfortune to happen to her. Though I think not meddling with her own business is for the best, she is still my family and my little sister. What I have to do now is save her, because I am her big sister—.

Since I can see now, I start to slip my wrist from the rope, although giving me some scratches, I am able to take them off.

Is the person who tied me an amateur I wonder?

From there, the blindfold, the gag and the rope that tied my ankle get completely taken off. I did it, with this I'm free! When I was doing the "I did it" pose, gigigi~ the door swung open with a heavy sound, and a slender man with a hooded robe entered the room. I was seen by this unknown man when I was frolicking around. It was so embarrassing so I demand a redo! Right, NOW!!

"Fumu, so you've woke up. Now then, just what exactly are you?"

"You didn't get affected by my magic. You might be equal to me or someone who's magic might be better than me, or perhaps you have some kind of magic item to resist magic, but that should be in the possession of that ojou-chan with good attire. Now then, just what exactly are you?"

That man just talks without caring that I got away from my binds. Because of the hood, I can't see his face, but should I try to make up an answer and draw some information from him first...?

“I’m just a guard. Anyway, is ojou-sama safe?”

“Hoo, that’s amazing to become a guard for someone at your age. Kukukuku, I’m starting to understand a guard’s standpoint when someone at your age is already on equal ability or even better than me.”

“I’ve answered your question, now can you answer my question. Is ojou-sama safe?”

“Aaa, she’s safe. There’s not even a single scratch on her, yet. Still I don’t get it. Why are you worried so much about that ojou-chan? Didn’t she shun you away?”

I see a wicked grin on his face. Did he hear the conversation in the changing room? I unconsciously clicked my tongue. However from our conversation, he still does not seem to realize that Haru and I are siblings, and for now Haru is still fine too. It’s really a relief.

“I am tied to ojou-sama by a blood contract, shunned or not it doesn’t matter. Now enough with the talk, I will go to where ojou-sama is so can you move away from there?”

“Too bad but I can’t. What’s more, magic can’t be used in this room; do you think a little girl like you can get away from me?”

“Pu, Ahahahahahaha! You really are amusing. I can do nothing but laugh when I hear a line that keeps raising a flag.”

I lift my bangs up to the top of my head while looking at the man. My real thought were slipped out there because this man was just too funny, and I realized I don’t need to keep an act in a place that there’re no one that knows me. The man was surprised when he saw me suddenly change but he still didn’t show any movement.

“Magic can’t be used in this room, you said....? Ne, is it true? Really? Who’s to decide that? You want to say this magic circle is able to seal magic? There's no meaning for a barrier and a magic circle if they got destroyed by just overloading them with magic power, you know? There is nothing absolute in this world. Miracles doesn't happen that's why it's called a miracle. Uun, I don't know about it but I'm sure it is!! And for you to spew information like that to a person you just kidnapped, just what are you doing? Are you an Idiot? You want to die? Don't decide how strong a person is by their looks and take an arrogant attitude like that you damn small fry!! (ED: Rant over)

O windstorm, swallow everything, <Tornado>!!!”

I touched the magic circle with both hands, and used the strongest output of my magic power for the first time.

Chapter 12 Kidnapped (3)

“GYAAAAAAAAAAAA!!”

“Ahahahahaha!”

The magic circle was destroyed quickly right after I infused it with my magic power, the man screamed when he was swallowed by <Tornado>. Some splinters from the destroyed floor got swallowed up inside <Tornado>, and it tore up the man's body. It's like he was getting swallowed by a washing machine together with some lethal weapons. Torn up clothes, scattered blood, I cancelled the <Tornado> magic when the air started to smell like blood and looked at the man's condition.

“Guu, wha, just what..... are you.....”

“That's right I, Tte like I'm going to tell you that! Anyway, where is the girl you kidnap together with me?”

“I, I don't- “You know right?””

“No, if you said you don't know then I just have to look for myself. For now let's take your magic power <Magic Power Takeover>”

“Wh, what.....!? U, aa.....”

I used a magic that steals magic power on him. He will lose his magic power for at least one day, but since I've never tried it before I'm not really sure about the duration. Seems like he lost consciousness after losing his magic power or because of the loss of blood.

Just in case, I put my hands in front of my chest together and pan~ push them on the ground near him and make a cage surrounding him. It's magic not alchemy though.

Seems like the other kidnappers started to noticed something's wrong from the battle or the scream, I can heard a lot of footsteps coming here. Dotadota~ They're coming from the stairs and from the passage.

When I left the room, I faced those coming from the passage.

"Onii-chans, are you all kidnappers?"

I look at them while unnaturally tilting my head.

"....."

Those men just stay still while glaring at me. Looks like they are not some idiots who didn't feels something was odd when a girl who is supposed to be bound comes out from the room.

"If you're looking for the magician guy, he's already sleeping back there you know? Are there not any strong magicians here? If not then obediently listen to what I say, and if any of you try to attack me I'm not going to guarantee your life. By the way, it's a joint responsibility okay?"

"This shitty brat....!!!"

"Idiot! Stop!!!!"

While saying that coercively, that guy with a low boiling point came slashing with his long sword.

“<Kamaitachi><sup>1</sup>, <Ice Lance>”

“Wha...!!”

“HURTS! IT’S HUUURTS!!!”

“Guaa!!?”

“What happe...!? Gofu!!”

I hold my hands forward while chanting magic. Though there is no deep meaning when I chant the aria in Japanese and English, it can make the image materialization easier.

The magic cut and pierces the men. Arms flying, heads pierced, those in the back only got minor injuries but the damage makes it so they can’t stand. I can feel the gastric acid in my stomach starting to swell up from seeing a human’s corpse without a head for the first time.

“Uu..... Oeeeeee.....”

I put my hands on the wall and spit out empty vomit. Though my breathing is getting rough because I throw up, I didn’t feel like I have lost anything or any guilt, it’s more like I was feeling refreshed. After that I take a long sword and throw those who’re still alive into the room, and then I merge the door and wall from outside so they can’t open it.

“It stinks of blood. Is there no one in the other rooms?”

I'm really talking to myself here. My clothes got stained with blood too, but well let's leave it for now. I found a room like the one I was confined in when I was checking around this floor, but there are just vacant rooms next to the one I threw the men into.

Seems like this is the lowest floor, because I can't find the staircase to get out of the basement, I decided to teleport to the floor above.

"Oo, that was fast. What happened down there?"

"Iyaa~, it was really troublesome you see. When the magician just start to blabbering something the others began to attack me. So I accidentally killed some of them. Tehepero~"

"!! Who the hell are you!!"

"Kidnapped girl A. Are you the boss?"

I tried to give a reply with a playful tone to the man who thought his friends were coming back. Though he started to ready his spear silently, is he the boss? I guess it's better to capture him then kill him if he is the boss.

"<Bind>"

"Hiiii!!"

I cast magic with a short chant toward him, black tentacles started to spread from his feet to his body and then bind him.

"So, where is the boss?"

"Uguu...."

"Fumu? <Poison>. I just used poison magic on you, if you don't properly talk you will suffer till you die you know?"

“Guuu.....”

“The boss, where is he?”

“.....”

“Haaa, it’s become more troublesome. SO ARE YOU THE BOSS?”

“..... No”

When I use more strength for confirmation, he answers with hollow eyes. Oh yes, honesty is the best. Though I don’t really understand why I suddenly started talking like this.

“I see, thank you. Thank you for your hard work, <Air Cutter>”

I cut off his head with <Air Cutter>. It’s different from <Kamaitachi>, <Air Cutter> only has 1 cutting edge but is much wider while <Kamaitachi> has many but are smaller. I’m scared of myself for not feeling any sense of guilt while killing this many people in such a short amount of time, but I don’t have any room to show sympathy to these kidnappers.

I’m still a beginner at fighting after all.

Because it’s quite dark inside this room, I use <Light> and search for Haru. When it gets brighter, I quickly look in other places because that guy’s corpse entered my view.

There is 1 large jail and 3 small jails. It’s now possible to look through the jail bars of each of these jails from the outside.

Because Haru was in the middle of changing clothes, right now she’s only wearing underwear..... Although I said underwear, she wear drawers under a non see-through chemise. If it’s in Japan it can be a cute pajama for girl. And so I look for a girl with a clothes like that.

“Haru?”

When I take a look in the large jail, there are 5 kids gathered in the inner most part while looking at me with frightened eyes.

Umu, she’s not in here.

“Ne, Nee-sama?”

“Haru!!”

When I approach the jail where Haru is, she was crying while hold the jail’s bars.

“Haa..... Thank god. I will open the door right now okay. <Kaijou>” (TL note: she return to her ojou-sama mode here) “E? E??”

Kacha~ the lock opened after I used <Kaijou>. I bring Haru who’s still dumbfounded from the jail outside when the jail’s door opened.

“Haru, are you unhurt?”

“U, un...”

“Was there something unpleasant they did to you?”

“No they, didn’t. Desu wa”

“I see, that’s good then.”

“Nee-sama that blood, is it.....?”

Haru was coming closer to me while crying but she suddenly stopped her feet and frightened when looking at my blood stained attire.

“Aa, this? This is just someone blood splatter. Don’t mind it.”

I raise the skirt hem slightly and playfully spin around. Haru looks like she has just seen something unbelievable though.

Haru look at me from top to bottom and holds my hand as she gives up.

“Saa, let’s return home. Lein-oniisama must be searching for us right now.”

“..... Yes”

“A, that’s right <Kaijou>. All of you to, quickly get out of here. If you want to follow us until town then I will help.”

I opened other cells and called out to the kids who also were kidnapped.

1. 鎌鼬/kamaitachi, Japanese folklore monster/yokai appear as 3 weasels, usually come out to cut their victims in a whirlwind. Though she’s not summoned them, she chant it and imagine it like a wind blade.

TN: Short chapter

Chapter 13 Kidnapped (4)

I went to the floor above the jail's room. There were 2 rooms filled with double bunk beds, and a living room that was connected to the kitchen. The living room had a door made from wood.

Of course, I had dealt with the other kidnappers on this floor too, not in a fight like from before; I just hardened the bedroom doors with a magic that resembled alchemy.

I told the other kidnapped kids to wait in another room. I had Haru to stay with them too because it's not safe now.

I can't see anything outside when I quietly peek from a window. Even though there is magic in this world, it was completely dark at night; it would be dangerous if we thoughtlessly go out now. So we will wait here and move when morning comes.

I heard a carriage's sound from outside when I was waiting in the living room. I slowly stood up and took a battle stance. First, if someone opened the door I would attack them with <Stun> and seal their movement, but if that someone is the boss I will capture them.

OK, with this victory is mine!

“Kaha!!”

Kii when the door opened; just in a moment. Exactly just in a moment. I saw a shadow enter. What happened? What is this?

It’s painful! It hurts!! I opened my eyes slowly and saw a man who was strangling me.

“GU!”

His hold on my neck tightened even more. My breath! It hurts.

Did I just let my guard down? And this is the consequence?

I’ve still done nothing in this world!

Can’t breathe, ah, it’s really embarrassing; I’m drooling.

Painful, it hurts it hurts it hurts it hurts!

Don’t mess with me, don’t mess with me don’t mess with me!!

Bastard!! Blown away!!!

DOGO!!

My throat got released. Haa Haa.... My, breath. (ED: This is not wrong, just the gasping of the mc.) That man was blown away through the door and sprawled on the ground like 大 character when I was searching for him with my blurry vision. Seems like I was too desperate and used too much power when I <Air Hammer>ed that man. After that I used <Ice Lance> at his leg. With this, he won’t be able to do an attack like before again. I went out and looked at the man’s condition after regaining my breath and wiped my tears and drool.

""O light illuminate everything, <Light>""

Uo! Too bright!!!

Just when I thought I hear some people voice, it was a chant for <Light> magic. It was so bright like a searchlight and I can't see the caster behind there. Enemy? Ally? Seems like they have big number, if they are enemy I can't afford to go easy on them.

"Emil?.... Emil!?"

I can hear Lein-nisama's voice. I can't tell where Lein-nisama is, but I can see a few silhouettes there. Seems like Lein-nisama didn't come here even after I nodded at them.

"Emil. I'm sorry but can you raise your hands slowly and come here?"

Ah, this. They are doubting me. That is what is usually said to a criminal. I got reminded this from a TV, but I can't do anything in this situation, so I raise my hands and walk slowly.

Chapter 14 Kidnapped (5) <Aslein>

My 4 years younger little sister Emil, ever since she was small she has lacked emotions and rarely expresses her feelings. Brother Sieg always treats her badly at every opportunity. Is it because he finds it unpleasant that between us siblings only Emil possess magic power? When big brother isn't around I speak kindly to Emil and when I pat her head she shows a tender smile even though it's just for a moment.

When my youngest sister was born.... Emil started to secluded herself in her room at 7 years old. When I asked Cecilia about it, she said Emil was reading books and knitting lace in her room. Though Emil is unsociable she's more feminine than I thought.

When I turned 12 I enrolled into the knight academy in the royal capital. I return home only once or twice a year but Emil's environment at home has still not changed. Brother Sieg still treats her coldly and Emil still secludes herself in her room.

Emil enrolled at Heinz academy in old in royal capital at 12 years old. It's a great honor for the family, but for Emil who is an introverted girl and can't use magic, can she get along well with others in the academy? I was just so worried, ever since I was assigned to the order of knights in the royal capital, everyday became busier with training and duty until I almost forgot about my family, and my worry for Emil began to fade too.

After 1 year I return home, Emil greets me looking like a different person. I think it must be because of Emil's environment at the academy that has made her grow to become more like a human. Emil told me about the academy. She told me about how she gets along with other noble ladies, about how the sword arts they teach are good, about how her results didn't improve even after she studied hard and also, about the false accusation incident....

When I heard her talk about that incident, I was really angry. While those guys have a standpoint and ability way above Emil's, they surrounded one girl and made her out to be the offender. I, as a knight, as a big brother and as a man cannot forgive them. Though Emil said she already forgave them, I can never forgive them.

I, Emil and Harutia, pet name Haru, decided to go out shopping together before new year arrives. Maa, it's almost like Haru is just forcing herself to participate but for me Haru is my important little sister too, so it's good if they both can get along while shopping. That's what I thought but, it seems like these two really have a bad affinity. Haru just one-sidedly flared up at Emil, but Emil herself didn't dislike it that much.

In Edibara town, we entered a clothes store that's quite far from the main street. When Haru wanted to try her new dress she didn't take Chikona, her maid but she took Emil and dragged her to the Changing room. After that the 5 of us waited for Haru to change her clothes but even after a while, Haru and Emil didn't return. Isn't it strange? while I was thinking that I told the two maids to go check on Haru and Emil, where they only found Haru's dress on the floor. A chill runs down my back as I get a bad feeling.

"The two daughters of the feudal lord have gone missing." I told the escort guards and dispatch them to inform the order of knights in the town.

"Aslein-sama, your hand...."

"Ah, sorry. It's okay."

The maid Cecilia noticed that I'm grasping my hand strongly. Though I can't just laugh it off, I smile and tell her that it's okay, she exhales a relieved breath but I'm starting to worry about her pale face.

After a while the 2nd order of knights in Edibara town and some of the garrison guards come and we begin to search together. Though I don't have the authority for this because I am off duty, I can't just stand still and wait. Because my parents have to know about this too, I told the maids and the escort guards to return to the mansion.

After investigating, in the dressing room at clothes store part of the wall can be dismantled, they must have gone in from there. The store manager said that he didn't know anything about it, but if I leave this to the knights to do further cross-examination they should be able to dig out more information.

According to the knights, recently some children have started to go missing one after another and they are still searching for the culprit now.

"Um, what will happen to the kidnapped children?"

".... Mainly they will be sold as a slaves or become raw materials for research. It's truly a heartrending story. But, if it's a nobles daughter they will go to get a ransom. Don't give up hope, we still have a lot of time."

Without realising, the vice captain of the knights answers my doubts. It's not like I've never seen a ghastly scene while I was on duty. However, right now I just don't feel any sense of reality, there is only anxiety in my mind.

The situation has progressed and now it's been 2 days since my little sisters went missing. There is a man who is believed to be a suspect who has bought a wagon and wants to go somewhere. According to the knights who got the information from the wagon merchant, that man wants to go to a different region and begin a new business while taking their belongings with them. That man doesn't seem to have anything among his belongings that can be used from the wagon. When he starts to leave we will stalk him and if he shows any suspicious movements, we will catch him immediately. Though I don't have any confidence in this plan, it's been decided to be carried out.

That night, the man stops his wagon after 30 minutes of traveling out of Edibara town at a small house, and entered the house. We close in on the house while holding our breath, and surround it.

I can hear some clattering noises from inside the house. When the knight captain orders to shrink the encirclement, a man was suddenly struck out through the door and thrown outside. From the place where the door's destroyed, the sound of a girl coughing can be heard. The shadow of a person wearing a skirt starts to move out from the house, heading here, seen because of the moonlight. Just one step before they come out, they stop, the man's legs are pierced through with lances made from ice coming out from inside the house. I had a feeling that I heard the man groan.

When the shadow slowly moves out, the knight captain gives the order to use light magic, <Light>, some of the knights begin to chant the aria at same time and the place was brightly lit up like day time.

I was not able to comprehend what happen. Because, the lit up person was my bloodstained little sister.

“Emil?... Emil!?”

I unintentionally call out to her. Although Emil is squinting her eyes because of the light, she nods at my call.

I want to immediately run to her and hug her, but I can't do that because there's a magician who is hiding there.

“Emil. I'm sorry but can you raise your hands slowly and come here?”

Emil raises her hands and slowly approaches me. There's a wound on her face and wrist, on her neck there's a strangle like mark and there's blood all over her clothes, it's truly painful to look at. I hug her tightly after waiting for her arrive.

“... I'm really glad you are safe.”

“Onii-sama, Haru is inside the house.”

Emil said with a hoarse voice.

“I have captured every criminal in there. Please quickly save Haru.”

When the knights and guards heard what Emil said, some of them begin to go inside the house.

Then as the encirclement becomes lax.

“!! Emil!!!”

I change positions with Emil by hugging her at once and protect her from a flying blade. The thrown knife strikes my flank.

“Gu!”

“O, Onii-sama...!?”

I unintentionally put more power into my arms. It's quite painful but this knife's blade doesn't seem to be long so it shouldn't cause a fatal injury. Emil is looking up at me from my arms looking like her tears will burst out at any moment. Suddenly, I fall to my knees and can't stand up anymore. .... Is it poisoned?

"Emil.... It was poisoned so, don't touch.... the, knife"

"Onii-sama?! Onii-sama!!!?"

All my senses disappear in no time and before I lose consciousness, I see Emil looking at me with a tearful face.

Chapter 15 Kidnapped (6)

<Heal>!

<Antidote>!

<Scan>!

<Detoxification>!

<Poisona>! (TN: Final Fantasy reference)

<Scan>!

Shit!! The wound was shallow so it's immediately healed, but why has the poison not gone? I think it's because I don't have any knowledge about medical treatment, even the magic phenomenon that I have used up until now is still unclear to me. But as long as I have a clear image it should be invoked like I want it to, so why.....

Just around 10 minutes ago, I leave the house and meet Lein-nisama with raised hands like Lein-nisama asked me. Without concern about my bloodstained attire he hugged me and said "... I'm really glad you are safe". I was really relieved when the knights began to move to save Haru and the other kids as per my wish but...

“!! Emil!!!”

At the same time as Lein-niisama shouted, my body was rotated 180 degree. There, I see a knight going to restrain the boss (temporary) whom I defeated a while ago, who has lifted the upper-half of his body and started grinning widely when he heard Lein-niisama’s groan.

I somehow support niisama as he falls to his knee, and slowly put him on the ground, then Lein-niisama said “Emil... it was poisoned so, don’t touch... the, knife” before he lost consciousness.

I grip the knife’s handle with a handkerchief and pull it out of Lein-niisama’s body. The blood slowly flowing out.

The wound closed when I use <Heal>, then I use <Scan> after use detoxification(Antidote) magic to check the result, but the poison is still there. Though it was a magic that frequently used in the game, it’s not working so I tried to chant <Detoxification> directly with the image like how it works in the game, but it’s was a failure too.

I had no other choice, because I can’t use recovery magic from the Light Element, I can only use that magic.

“<Rollback Antidote>”

A magic that rewind a bodies time. Just in case, I muttered the Rollback part in low voice. A showy effect of a gear like magic circle started to appear from Lein-niisama’s body, and the magic begin to rewind his condition to right before he was afflicted by the poison. It’s not like I was worried someone would see it! Lein-niisama’s body twitched when I check his body with <Scan> after the effect disappeared, and the poison was completely gone.

I entrust Lein-niisama to a nearby knight and went to the boss. A knight gives me a warning when I get close to the boss, but I ignore it. Like I'm going to worry about that! I will return double for what he's done!

Because I had torn his legs, he was like some captured alien when the knights held his both hands and carry him under their shoulder.

"It would be better if you just sleep quietly you know."

"Ojou-chan, it's dangerous so stay back!"

I stand before the boss and talk to him with wide smile on my face. The knights butt in from both side when I was talking to him. I'm not really sure, is it because they worried for me or am I a hindrance to them? Let's ignore them.

"At that time, it should have been better if you had killed me sooner. What a great mistake."

"Ojou-chan stay back!!!"

"..... You monster....."

"Nn? Monster? What an exaggerated words. Just what are you seeing now I wonder? Are you perhaps have some kind of special ability to see-through anything? Maa it doesn't matter now. It's not going to change the fact that you have failed."

I shake off the hand of a knight who wants to separate me from the boss, and put my hand in front of the boss.

"Let this pain gnaw at thee, thou not allowed to go mad nor die from this pain, thy sole and only moment of mercy will be granted when thee speaketh the truth. Known this pain for eternity. <Pain>!"

After I put a curse magic for everlasting pain on him, he started to scream like a madman and breaks loose from the knights' restrain when he begin to act violently.

"Serves you right."

Kukuku, I can't hold my laugh but I was muttering so they shouldn't be able to hear what I said. After that, I pass an important note to the knights who was already several steps away from the boss.

"Eto, I just put magic on that man that causes lasting pain. If he answers a question honestly it will lessen his pain temporarily, please make sure he won't escape. Though I said that, with his legs like that I don't think he will be able to run."

"E, a. Ah..."

I bow my head after saying that and the knights with quite a complicated expression reply to me.

When I returned to where Lein-nisama is, he has already regained his consciousness and was hugged by Haru who was crying on his arm. Is this what they say "A deeply moving reunion" thing? I already did it first with Lein-nisama so it's not like I find it very vexing okay!?

"Ah, Emil! You healed my wound right? Thank you!! I thought I was going to die there. And now you were able to use magic too."

"No, I just did what I could."

Lein-nisama greet me with smile while hugging Haru. Haru was looking at me with a tinge of fright in her eyes. Th-that's right, it must be because her big sister is a murderer and was coming closer with bloodstained attire, it's not a level of "want to stay away" anymore but "don't want to get close at all". I understand that.

After that the other kidnapped kids and I were got brought to the lodging house of the Edibara's order of knights for protection. Even if I say for protection it's more like confinement, though it's only me who got confined! The soft and fragile me is not a bad guy okay!

Seems like it's questioning time now, and here I thought I was finally free. In front of me is the knight's captain, beside him is the vice-captain and behind me is a secretary and a knight who was monitoring me.

"There are 7 children who were kidnapped including you. As for the criminals, there are 7 deaths, 4 mortal wounds and 4 minor wounds. Does this match?"

"Yes, there are 5 children I saw back there when I was looking for Haru. But about the criminals, there are some of them which I killed but for the exact number, I don't remember it."

"How did you fight against the criminals?"

"With magic. Is there anything strange about it?"

"It's not strange anymore but ridiculous. The magic sealing room 2 floors underground was completely tattered, a magician who was on the wanted list was completely exhausted of magic power and trapped in a cage, though they are hooligans more than 10 of the named criminals were completely beaten. It's too one-sided."

"Is that so? I think as long as magic is used, for something to that level anyone can do it. Though I'm very sorry about killing some of them because I didn't hold back when I used magic, life is a thing that can't be bought. Surely you're not going to tell me to hold back in that kind of situation are you?"

"Well, it's true but...."

I don't get what the captain was doubting at all. Shouldn't they be giving me better treatment in this kind of situation?

Or maybe he thought that I was pretending to be kidnapped? No no, that's impossible. Even if I did that, there are no gains for me at all.

"Nn. That's it! Have you heard about those criminals' boss?"

"Aa."

"That's right. It's a pain that only be lessen if one speaks the truth! If that's the case why was I brought here and am being questioned? If it about verification then I don't know more than this."

"Is that so... sorry for taking your time. Let's end the questioning with this, allow me to make preparations to accompany you to your mansion."

"Thank you very much. Well then, excuse me."

I had a feeling like I just heard the captain deeply sigh after I bow and was going to leave the room. In the end, I still don't get what the captain wanted to hear from me. Does he want to hear about how I fought those criminals alone? If you can't even hunt a bandit group, then don't hope to catch up with the tiny breasted mahou shoujo who loves novels okay?

And after this and that I was finally returned safely to the mansion, though at that time we were doing some end-of-the-year shopping, we returned when it's already new year. What a long shopping day... I didn't buy anything though!

Chapter 16 Family Meeting

Ee— With this, the first family meeting will begin.

The participants are Father George, 52 years old, Mother Clara, 41 years old, Eldest Son Sieg, 25 years old, Second Son Aslein, 17 years old, Second Daughter Emil, 13 years old. Sieg's wife and children are outsiders so, absent. The eldest daughter Meliva, 20 years old is married into another house so, absent. The third daughter Harutia, is only 6 years old so she will also absent. Although I said she's absent, it's just that she didn't get informed.

After the kidnapping incident was settled, I finally returned home. I suddenly got called and was told to clearly explain about the incident, while all my family members were gathered around the desk with a heavy atmosphere. Father and eldest brother looked at me with a piercing gaze, as usual.

“Emil, didn't you tell me that you couldn't use magic!?”

“About that, when I said I couldn't use magic...well that was a lie.”

“For you to lie to me, who do you think you are!!?”

Big brother suddenly slammed his hands on the desk and shouted at me. He most likely thought that I was making fun of him when I nonchalantly admitted I was lying to him. No no no, though I do think there is no need to so angry like that, I just don't get it. What did I do to make him hate me like this.

"Nii-san, it's okay right? I mean, thanks to that, Emil and Haru were saved anyways."

"Aslein! Isn't it your fault to spoil her too much like this that she started to get carried away!?"

"Sieg-oniisama, I do not get spoiled by Lein-oniisama at all. Though I don't know what made you feel unpleasant, please stop venting your anger at Lein-oniisama."

"Sieg, silence."

Father told big brother to shut up, thinking that the talk wouldn't be progressing if this continued. Then he looked at me with his sharp gaze... and dropped the bomb.

"And, Who are you?"

"Dear, It's not who right? Isn't she Emil. It's still early for you to grow senile. Fufufu"

Mother immediately put a tsukkomi at father's word. Though it was mother who was senile, I didn't feel like wanting to tsukkomi at her so I just ignored it.

When eldest brother and Lein-niisama heard what father said, "Ha!?" they were startled and looked at me.

Looks like father has noticed, that the current "Me" is different from the "Me" from the past.

"Father, I am your daughter Emil Vorst. I admit, that I am right now, different.

Though it's not like I am being possessed by an evil spirit, I am currently under a curse. Hmm that's right for the example, let's say there is a  $\frac{1}{5}$ th of black tea inside a teacup. And after that we pour the  $\frac{4}{5}$ th black tea later into the teacup, with that the teacup will be filled, no? Although the  $\frac{4}{5}$ th part of the black tea was poured later, the content is still a black tea."

"In other word, the teacup is your body and the black tea is your mind. Is it?"

"It's really helps a lot when you get it so fast, father."

"However, the original black tea that was blended together with the black tea that's poured later, will change how the original black tea taste was."

"Well well, isn't it quite harsh? It's exactly as you said. If I had said the truth, that my head was struck on a tree at the academy a few days ago, and since then I remembered my memory from my previous life."

Father still stared at me with his usual expression, while mother seems like she doesn't get the flow of the conversation. My two older brothers were looking at me while being dumbfounded. It's better if you two close your mouth you know? Your good-looking face are spoiled. It's can't be helped if they thought that I was talking nonsense right now.

"Even if I said previous life, I'm not sure if that is my previous life. And I don't have any way to prove it either. It's just... that's right, I do have a knowledge about what this world doesn't have. Though in my previous life I was just a commoner with bad head, I too don't have a specialized profession so even if I was asked about an advancement study subject, I can't answer them."

I talk with business smile. I can't read father's expression but I continue to talk.

"Father, I am Emil Vorst, your daughter. This is the truth without any speck of doubt. Even if a different brand of black tea was blended together with the original black tea, it's not like the original black tea was not in there. The name of the blended black tea now is “Emil”. My wish is that when I graduate from the academy, “Emil Vorst” will be dead by an accident, after that I will try to live in another country. Right now I am still a kid, so until I graduate from academy it will help me very much if you could take care of me until then.”

I headed toward father who was sitting very still on the chair and lowered my head.

“Even if Emil changes, you are still my little sister.” Lein-niisama said, while patting my head, Lein-niisama’s expression was like he were wailing to god, though he didn’t cry.

“Father! Surely you don’t believe this nonsense do you? What’s more, to take care of her until graduation is far too convenient for her!”

“If it’s alright, I will pay it back for every cent you spent for me. There are many methods to earn money after all.”

“Then tell me those methods of yours, now!”

“Are there any idiots who would want to show all of their cards?”

“What-”Sieg””

While standing up with exaggerated movement, Sieg flared up to me.

Do you hate me that much?!

Brother return to his seat after father called his name. Father slowly opened his mouth.

“I understand what you saying. But I won’t give you(Emil) any free will to act. I will have you dedicate that body for this house, more broadly, for this country.”

“I understand. I will obey what father wishes for my entire lifetime.”

And then, the first family meeting ended, with the declaration that basically says there is no escape for me.

Why didn't it go well? I can't tell.

Idle Talk : Ojou-sama's Holiday <Cecillia>

I am Cecillia Luvogh. Born as the 4th daughter of the Luvogh Baron house who was at the brink of ruin. I have worked as Emil-samas maid in the Vorst Count house since I was 10 years old. Though for my parents, they want me to collect achievements by working at the Vorst Count house and when there's a good partner for me, they want me to quickly get married. But for me personally, working is already like a raison d'être for me, and even I turn 18 I still want to continue serving under Vorst Count house.

Daily life returned to normal after the kidnapping incident concerning Harutia-sama and Emil-sama was concluded.

First of all, I go to wake up Emil-sama at 6 am in the morning. Lately, Emil-sama has been staying awake until late at night so when I wake her up, "5 more minutes. No, 10 more minutes... Make it a Snooze please..." and she returns to her land of dreams again. Somehow, I wake her up, change her clothes and serve her breakfast in the end.

It seems like Aslein-sama practices his martial arts every morning while he is staying here. By the way, Emil-sama already named that ominous cane she bought in the royal capital... [Evil Staff]. She used it as a blunt weapon and exchanged blows with Aslein-sama where he used a sword and shield made from wood, not even a minute had passed before her cane flew away and she kissed the ground. Unable to watch it anymore, Aslain-sama said "Nn. I think Emil is not suited to blunt weapons. Blunt weapons need more power when used, to deal a fatal wound to an enemy is hard you know? Here, try to fight with a sword." A one handed sword made from wood was passed to Emil-sama and the training restarted. Emil-sama who used the wooden sword only won against Aslein-sama once every 5 rounds. With an unsatisfied expression Emil-sama muttered “Though when I played as a Hunter, I always used blunt weapons. Should I change my main weapon to sword after all...?” what is she talking about I wonder.

After finishing lunch, Emil-sama returned and secludes herself in her room. Looks like things haven’t changed from before. No, before, she’d always seclude herself from morning til night so I believe it must be because Aslein-sama is here.

Apparently, Emil-sama is practicing magic inside her room. Once, there was a burnt smell and when I entered her room, flustered, a part of the rug was burned..... this rug, I wonder how many years of my wages it is worth?

Showing an expression of her mischief being found out, Emil-sama said “I-It’s not like I’m the one who did this okay!?” but, surely this is Emil-sama’s doing. After that, I made her promise not to use dangerous magic indoors again. Thinking about how I should report this to the Mistress, I returned to her room again, only to see the rug was spotless like new. Was I dreaming?

After finishing a midnight snack and helping her with a bath, it is the usual time for her to sleep but recently Emil-sama has been saying “I have something to do so Cecillia, you can leave now.” and makes me leave her room by pushing my back.

Just what does she do every night? I strained my ears and hear “I want to lick Cecillia” or “I want to read a S&M book!” and etc. She just said some incomprehensible things. Is she tired I wonder?

After the 12th month passed I think Emil-sama has changed a lot but, I wish to continue serving her, like taking care a little sister from now on.

Chapter 17 Dance Party (1)

“Mo, Mother. Just what, are these.....”

I look at the colorful dresses lined up before me and muttered.

It’s unusual for mother to call me early in the morning, while I was thinking that, a large amount of dresses, accessories, seamstresses and merchants were lined up when I arrived to where mother is.

“Fufufu. Gosh! Emil is also invited to the celebration dance party for the founding of the nation, see. Mou! His Highness is really selfish to suddenly send a written invitation when a girl has a lot of preparations to make first, right?.”

“Eh? I have to participate in the dance party too?”

“That’s right. It’s usually me and George, and occasionally Sieg will participate too. But, here, look at this.”

Mother put her hands on her face acting like she was troubled, she seems very happy though she said it was selfish. While like that, “Here.” mother passed me the written invitation to the dance party from the Third Prince Khais.

The court dance party for the founding of the nation is usually held annually on the 14th day in the 2nd month. Hosted by the kingdom within big facilities like the dance hall in the royal palace and at a dinner venue. It's like a party sponsored by the kingdom, at a big hotel and a large facility that has been combined together. Because the guests are mainly aristocrats and foreigner VIPs, it's nearly impossible for children and a heir of peerage like a Count to participate in the party. Furthermore, it is a custom to send the invitation four months before the party.

And that kind of invitation arrived one month right before the party, What is this? Is this one of Khais' plots? or maybe, is he being a bully?

From what's written in the invitation, as an apology for the Conviction's Event, he wants me to enjoy the dance party. Rather than that, it's a bother.

"Ufufu. Because Emil has a lot of dresses with dark colors, for this occasion, let's make them in bright colors instead?"

"No, mother. I prefer a deep blue....."

"No! It's a royal court dance party you know. It has to be more gorgeous than before, use it as a debut too."

".....Y, Yes."

It is impossible to go against mother's appeal, and so I became a dress-up doll. My clothes were taken off and after repeating this more than 20 times, the dress was finally decided. After that, it took 2 more days just to choose an accessory, shoes and a garment that matched the dress.

The dress is a red dress with many piled up skirt like a princesses. And some parts of the dress were highlighted with a rose flower design in black. Of course, the accessory and the red dress were coordinated to suit my hair color and eye color too.

“Emil, it’s suits you very well!”

“..... Thank you very much. Mother”

“Ufufu, it’s fine. Just enjoy the dance party okay.”

Mother smiled at me without a worry while I have a cramped smile. When I silently confirmed how I look in the mirror, there...

However I see it, It’s THE Villainess noble’s daughter.

Truly, Thank you very much.

“Ah that’s right, let’s ask Sieg to be your escort.”

“Make it Lein-oniisama please.”

“Emil prefers Aslein as the escort?”

“Yes, I prefer Lein-oniisama. My age is close with Lein-oniisama, and he is still unmarried too. We might find a partner for Lein-oniisama there.”

I block mother’s word when she wants to make eldest brother as my escort and strongly recommended Lein-niisama. I think it’s important to choose a partner that’s appropriate for mental health.

“Oh well. But that child, he might be busy with work as a knight, no?”

“Yes he might, but..... I will ask so that Lein-oniisama may return first if he has a job to do.”

“If Emil says so, then it’s decided the escort is Alsein.”

“Mother, thank you!”

Thus, my participation in the dance party is decided.

Chapter 18 Dance Party (2)

“Cecillia, do you have time?”

“Yes Emil-sama, how can I help you?”

I beckoned Cecillia to come closer and passed her a B6 sized purse made from a soft skin pelt.

“For you.”

“Waa! Thank you very much!”

“About that purse, it’s a magic tool (magic item) I will teach you how to use it.”

“Ehh?! Aren’t magic tools very high priced? Is it really okay to give this to me?”

“I’m the one who made it so you don’t have to worry about it. Well then, I will explain how to use it.”

“Yes, please.”

“This is an item called inventory and it has a storage space, to store an item. It’s quite hard to define storage space so to say it in simpler terms, it is possible to store an item from a very heavy one to a very big one. For example, a chair or a table, it is possible to store them.”

While explaining, I walked toward the chair that was near me and put it in the space inside Cecillia’s purse. Though I said put in, it’s not like I physically grabbed the chair and put it inside the purse, I just drew the purse’s mouth closer and the chair suddenly disappear.

“Eh? The chair’s gone!?”

“Cecillia, put your hand inside the purse and try to take out the chair.”

“Yes.”

Cecillia put in her hand inside the purse just like how I told her to and a chair was drawn out from the purse’s mouth when she took out her hand.

“!!”

“Un, you do it well. It is an item that can store away and draw things out like that. And what makes it more wonderful is that inside that purse, there is no passage of time so we can store an item without having to worry about the items becoming deteriorated! Therefore, vegetables or fruits won’t rot when stored in it.”

“What a wonderful thing! Is it truly fine to give this to me?”

“Of course Cecillia. You can have it by all means! There would be a lot of things I brought from royal capital when I returns right? I, don’t want to make Cecillia carry a heavy luggage after all.”

“Emil-sama..... Thank you very much! I will make use of it preciousy.”

She was moved and hugged me with a tear collected on her eyes a little. Her two heavenly ripened fruits are very soft and pleasant. Guhehe~

Let's leave an old-man like delusion for now, I told Cecillia how to check on the remaining storage space and the stored items by chant <Inventory List> for the purse, and also told her to not use it in a crowded place.

By the way, the inventory item for my personal use is a bracelet type accessory with a jewel attached to it. In there is the cane with the skeleton design I bought from the royal capital when buying the commoner clothes, <Evil Staff>, vintage swords and shields which I borrowed without permission from the warehouse, all the armaments were completely stored in it. I took them without leaving a dust so it shouldn't be found out too easily.

"Haa still, I never thought I will return to the royal capital this early. It may be a bother for you, but can I leave the preparation to you, Cecillia? I'm planning to return to the academy's dormitories after the dance party so please prepare them too."

"Yes, certainly. Emil-sama"

Cecillia bowed with a smile and began to prepare my things for the royal capital.

Vorst House owns a mansion in the royal capital, my parents spent time for the noble society season in that mansion. I will wait there together with my parents until the day the dance party arrives, and after that I plan to return to the dormitories. I'm will not be returning home, I believe my holiday will be more useful if I use it to train my magic and read books in the academy.

The days were so busy and before I realised it, the day to travel to the royal capital had arrived. There were 5 carriages accompanied by guards. Because eldest brother and his wife are staying at home, there is only me, my escort Leinniisama and Cecillia that will travel together. What a healing space!

Now, let's get into the carriage!

Right when I was about to enter the carriage, someone called out to me. I stopped and turned around.

“Emil-oneesama.....”

“Haru? What is it?”

Haru was obviously frightened when I talked to her, she tried to hide it by turning her face down.

Is she traumatized about that?

“Um..... About the other day when you saved me, thank you very much..... I will be waiting for the day to be able to see you again.”

“That was just by chance that I have power, and also by good luck to be able to save you. Please don’t mind about such a thing.....That’s right, I hope a day where we can meet again will come.”

“Have a safe trip.”

“See you later.”

Haru saw me off while looking at me with a cramped smile, did she muster her courage?

I was surprised with the sudden turn of her attitude, there might’ve been a change inside of her. I let it slip off from my mind when thinking that a change can be happen every day when people grow up.

We finally arrived at the mansion in the royal capital after 4 days without any incident.

Hair set, make up and change of clothes were all prepared in hurry on the day the dance party arrived, in the afternoon after the carriage for my parents departed, it was my turn to follow them together with Lein-niisama on the carriage to the dance hall. Lein-niisama wore a navy blue shallow-tail suit, just like a cosplay from the game it's really cool. I want to save this image with digital camera! Gufufu~

While I was looking at Lein-niisama, I noticed Cecillia looking at me coldly. Why!!?

We waited for our names to be called in the, court hall's waiting room? and entered the hall when we got called. I could feel a layer of air pass through me when I entered. It's probably many of the piled barriers, it's completely on a different league when compared to the barrier in the academy.

The huge dance hall was protected by a rectangle barrier while in the innermost part was protected by semi-circle barriers. The semi-circle barriers height are around 1m from the ground on the extravagant looking chairs. It's probably the seats for royalties.

In the middle of the hall, there is a huge chandelier hanging on the ceiling and around it, there are many other small chandeliers glittering. Beautiful carvings were on the pillars and walls, it was truly an amazing spectacle with a luxurious and gorgeous style.

“Emil? Let's go.”

“Ah, yes.”

Urged by Lein-niisama, we went toward the edge of the hall, the names of the participants were read out loudly and each entered one after the other. One hour passed, the names of the royalties were read out loud and then they took a seat at the inner part of the hall. This time the King and Queen, the First Prince and his Consort, and the Third Prince were participating, only the Second Prince was not participating because he was studying abroad to a distant country. After the king's speech, it was time for the King and Queen to dance, after that the Princes and lastly the aristocrats.

The partner for the first prince was obviously his consort, but it was a surprise that the third prince's dance partner was Bitch-chan. I thought that surely it would've been his lady fiancée, is it really okay? Even though his fiancée is present.....

I devoted myself to become a wallflower after dance 1 tune with Lein-nisama, erasing my presence. I nonchalantly tried to make myself disappear by using <Invisible> but because of the barriers it didn't work out well. Too bad.

Meanwhile, Lein-nisama left saying, "I will go for a moment." when he was invited to dance by a lady from somewhere and entered the circle of the dance.

While enjoying the brilliant atmosphere with a third party standpoint, the Third Prince Khais, Bitch-chan and the guard in act Gilbert, they are approaching me. It's really amazing how they can find one person inside this crowd of people. Though it would be much better if they put that skill for more practical use in a different place.

Chapter 19

TN : I'm sorry for the delay, ISP in my region currently unstable and it affected greatly in my internet connection speed. Until it stable again I can't be sure to translate at a stable pace so.... well, cross fingers I suppose?

Chapter 19 Dance Party (3)

“Miss Vorst, are you enjoying your time here?”

“Yes, thank you very much for the invitation.” I reply to the Third Prince's question with a smile,

“Err, Emil-chan... About the trouble I caused you the other day, I'm sorry!”

Bitch-chan who was behind Khais stepped forward and bowed her head, Khais and Gilber follow after her bowing their heads too, Bitch-chan smiles when seeing them like that.

But still, to use “-chan”... did she treat me like her friend?

“Bi-..... Siltat-sama, that matter's already in the past so please, raise your heads.”

“Is that so? Thank you! Ah, it's fine to call me Risty okay?”

Right after I said it, she quickly raised the upper-half of her body with amazing vigor and smiles at me. Is she acting in a calculated way right now? Anyway, I downright ignore her request to call her by her first name.

“Risty, are you satisfied now?”

“Un!”

“Then, would you dance with me next?”

Gilbert invites Bitch-chan to dance while blushing, Bitch-chan takes Gilbert’s hand after glancing at Khais and goes into the ring of the dance.

Oi you fools! Don’t leave Khais here!

With a sidelong glance, I see Khais were looking at Bitch-chan with a feverish gaze. I want to use this chance to get away from Khais.

“Seems like I was left behind.” He looks at me and says.

I only answers with “It seems so” with a smile, until then the ladies in the distance start to gather around Khais. While being washed away by the ladies that have gathered around him, I move around the wall as if hiding myself in other people’s shadows.

“.....Fuh”

Lein-niisama doesn’t return even after Bitch-chan and the others dance for 5 tunes.

As expected it was boring so I was thinking of going outside, I heard voices coming closer. I looked towards the direction where the voices were coming from, there the First Prince walked slowly while looking around the surroundings. The 22 year old First Prince, Alshade, his silky blond hair reaches until below his shoulders with jade green eyes, if Khais is like a prince from a picture book then Prince Alshade is like a man that directly came out from a love game woman like to play, a handsome prince.

I feel like our eyes meet when I was keep looking at his beautiful face. While I was thinking it is like meeting the eyes of an idol at a concert, Prince Alshade stops, talks to people around him and starts heading here slowly. There's no way Prince Alshade has any business with me, we are not even acquaintances. Perhaps, he wants to meet with someone that is standing near me, while I was thinking that...

"Excuse me, are you Miss Emil Vorst?"

I look up at the person who suddenly appeared, Prince Alshade was standing before me with a dazzling smile. When Prince Alshade talked to me, the surroundings suddenly became silent.

"Yes, pleased to meet you. I am George's daughter from Count Vorst house, Emil."

Though there was a slight pause because I was surprised, I reply and bow quickly.

"Ah, thank goodness. I thought what should I do if I had the wrong person."

"Hoo..." Without breaking his smile, he put his hand on his chest and exhaled a relieved breath. Prince Alshade then bowed his body a little, offered his right hand to me and said, "Would you like to dance?"

I can't refuse him so with a cramped smile I said, "My pleasure" and took Prince Alshade's right hand. He escorted me to the center of the dance hall and we began to dance.

"I'm sorry I invited you so suddenly like this."

"No, it is a honor."

"Hahaha, is it a bother perhaps? It's the first time for me to see a person say "My pleasure" with a cramped smile."

Prince Alshade talks to me while we dance. Perhaps he invited me to dance because there's something he wants to talk to me but, is there no other method where we don't stand out? What's more, he is nonchalantly using sarcasm. He somehow seems like a troublesome person.

"Honestly, I have an interest in you."

"Ha, haaaa....?"

"Ah, please be assured because it's not love. What I'm interested in is your magic."

"Magic.... is it?"

"Yes, magic. I read some reports about you in Heinz academy. There hardly any mages who can use <Tornado> consecutively you see. And to take care of the kidnappers too, I was surprised."

Why does Prince Alshade read the academy's report? Why does he know about the kidnapping incident? There are only doubts in me, Prince Alshade doesn't care about that and continues to speak.

"Ah-, 'Why does he know such matters?' you maybe thought that now right? It's written on your face. You see, I have to look for any information about excellent mages, it will trouble me if someone gets their hands on them first after all."

"I-is that so?"

"It is. I started an investigation about you after I finished reading the report you see. It's started to get more interesting after several months so I wanted to talk with you. It really a great help that Khais invited you here."

From what Prince Alshade said, it's seems I was seen as a prospective recruit. If

I remember correctly, surely many student from academy who have great ability will be recruited and work for kingdom at the royal palace. But still, I don't think there's a need for Prince Alshade to select them personally though.

Chapter 20

Translator : Ellionora

TN: I'm back!!! Finally, the ISP here had fixed their landline. 3 weeks without internet..... it was seriously a trial.

Chapter 20 Dance Party (4)

I and Prince Alshade continued talking while dancing and when the tune almost finished, suddenly I heard a cracking sound coming from the ceiling. Looking above, the largest chandelier looks like it's swaying a little. Ah, somehow I got a bad feeling about this. When I was thought like that, the Prince put his hand around my head and pressed my head against his chest, pushing my back to the ground. The last image I saw, is the ceiling....

No, the image of the falling chandelier.

On the spur of the moment, I raise my hands from below the Prince's armpit to the ceiling and chant <Shield>. A 3 meter dome-shaped semicircle suddenly warps around me and the Prince. And immediately, the huge chandelier crashes into the <Shield>, followed by a loud Gashan sound and screams from the surroundings.

"Dang....!! I think I will die there..."

It can't be helped if I slipped out here. I didn't said that to the Prince so let's say it's safe here. Perhaps because of my words the Prince showed a reaction and raised his head.

Your face is too close!

".... Are we, saved?"

"Yes, we are okay. Apart from that..... Your highness, erm...."

I answered to Prince Alshade's question while flustered.

And then, the appearance of the Prince push me down to the floor.... In this awkward Yuka Don position, I wanted to say "Just get away quickly" but I only said "Please get away" evasively.

(TN: do you know Kabe Don? well it's like that, but this Yuka Don is not on the wall but on the floor.)

"A, Ah. Sorry about that."

"No, please do not mind it. It still dangerous so please do not leave the barrier."

Prince Alshade moves away from me and sits down on the floor. I also sit down after raising my upper body, the <Shield> which covered us and supports the chandelier, to stop the <Shield> from failing, I raise my both hands and keep sustaining it.

I saw a lot of knights already gathered outside the <Shield>, tending the injuries from the chandelier's fragments, leading the evacuation and the work to remove the chandelier. And I also saw Bitch-chan doing some medical treatment when I heard a commotion and looked over.

"That was really close. You saved me there."

"With all due respect, Your Highness. Why did you protect me?"

“Isn’t natural to protect a woman?”

“Yes, I too think it is natural, for an ordinary man. But Your Highness’ body is very precious to the Kingdom. At least use me as a shield....”

Is it because he was relieved, the Prince spoke to me with a smile, and when I gave him frank advice, he put his hand on his chin “Fumu....” and started to pondered. It’s still unclear who will become King at this point but, personally I want to avoid where Khais becomes the King so I convey my message for him to treat his body as more precious.

“Then, you can protect . . . . . right? . . . . . though.”

Prince Alshade was muttered something, but because I only heard fragments of it I ignored it. After a short period of time, the chandelier overhead was removed by the knights so I dissolve the <Shield>. And then the knights and medics rush over and take the Prince just like that.

“Emil! Are you okay!?”

“I am okay, Lein-oniisama”

When I was watching them taking care of the Prince like a pit crew, Lein-niisama rushed over to me.

My Rule activated when asked “Are you okay?” and replied “I am okay” without reason. With a relieved expression, Lein-niisama takes my hand and helps me stand.

“Father and Mother are safe, they are in a special room right now so don’t worry.”

“Really? It is good then.”

“Shall we go to the special room too?”

“Ah, Lein-oniisama. I can use Basic Magic <Heal> so should I help around here?”

“There aren’t any people with serious injuries, and mages from royal palace are here too so I think there are already enough hands around.”

“I see. Then, let’s go to the special room.”

“Un, let’s go.”

Escorted by Lein-niisama, we head to the special room. When I entered the noisy room suddenly falls silent, and I was pierced by numerous gazes.

I haven’t done anything wrong, just what on earth is with this uncomfortable situation?

Author note:

It was shorter than I thought. I’m very sorry.

Chapter 21 Dance party (5)

“Father, Mother, are you injured?”

“Ara maa! Emil was safe too? Thank goodness!”

I greet my parents when I found them inside the room, and Mother replies to me with bright face and hugs me. Though little by little the noises inside the room return, the inquisitive atmosphere didn't disappear.

“Is His highness safe?”

“Yes, Father. He was brought to a separated room by the Knights.”

“I see, you did well.”

“Thank you very mu..... ch?”

When Father confirmed about Prince Alshade safety, he was breathed out like he was relieved. The nobles started to gather around my parents and talk when the atmosphere from the Prince's topic softened a little. The subject is about me, “What a wonderful Ojou-san” or “Since when did the magic manifest?” and so on, I understand that they want to use this chance to make a connection, even a little.

“Lein-oniisama.”

“Nn, what is it?”

“I am tired....”

“That’s right isn’t it? I think Emil’s tired because you used magic, should we go home?”

“Yes.”

When I want to make use of Lein-niisama’s consideration, a knight who named themselves as Prince Alshade’s emissary called me. Though Lein-niisama told them “My little sister is tired today so she wants to retire”, but what we got in reply was now I have to meet the prince, further more I have to meet him alone.

“Excuse me. I have brought Miss Emil Vorst.”

“Enter.”

It was a gorgeous reception room when I entered through the massive door. There is Prince Alshade who is sitting on a sofa for 1 person like the so-called birthday seat, and there are knights and attendants standing around him, and around the room.

There are several people present. In the center of the room, there are 3 people seated on a sofa facing the other side with a table in between them. Before long, someone guides me to the sofa and I sit down after receiving permission. There is a person with robes seated across me.

They seems like a person who can use the law who was seated.

“Miss Emil, I’m very sorry to have called you even though you are tired.”

“No, please do not mind it. Your highness.”

“First, allow me to express my gratitude for saving me.”

“It is an undeserved honor.”

“I have several questions for you.”

“Yes, if it something I can answer, please ask me anything.”

“The magic that you chanted, <Shield>. What is that?”

Eh? There is no magic for <Shield>? There is a similar magic like <Tornado> with a different name, I think it’s okay to not worry about it so much.

(TN: Just for reminder, in this series the others said Tornado magic with katakana トルネード, while only Emil who said it with kanji 竜巻 /tatsumaki.)

“It is a small barrier, Your highness. Though it’s not to an extent to cover an entire room, it can at least cover a few meters and has a protection effect from physical attacks to magic attacks. However, it will consume magic power continuously while using it and there is a possibility of it being broken when receiving a powerful attack.”

“Fumu, next. Are you the one who made the chandelier fall?”

“... Your highness, are you doubting me?”

“No, not at all. I ask just for form’s sake.”

“I see.”

“This side will do the investigation into the criminal so you don’t have to worry.”

“Yes.”

Criminal? Has it already been decided that it didn’t fall naturally, not an accident? Should I be relieved now that I’m not the criminal here? Although I didn’t completely doubt what he said, I think it’s impossible to launch offensive magic and make the chandelier fall before taking care of the barrier in the hall first. No, though it’s not completely impossible, if they used proper timing and aimed the magic at Prince Alshade and not the chandelier, it is possible to kill him. When I used <Shield>, maybe it was properly invoked because it is in a same system as the barrier, and in fact I can made it to not just protect me and Prince, but also the people around us so they're not hurt. But at that time I didn't have any spare room to think about that at all.

“Your highness, isn't it too much to begin an introduction when the conversations has almost ended?”

“Sorry, sorry. Well don't mind the minor details.”

Prince Alshade replies lightly with tehepero and introduces me to the person with the robes in front of me.

“I am the leader of royal court mages, Rubek Litton. For helping His highness this time, thank you very much.”

“The daughter of George from Vorst Count house, Emil. I am honored that this body can be useful.”

When Rubek-san stood up and introduced himself, he offered his right hand so I also offered my right hand for handshake. From the tightly grasped hand, I felt a tingling sensation flowing from it. This is that so called comparing magic power huh, I infused my magic power into Rubek-san's hand through my hand and then, Rubek-san frowns for just a moment and pours in even more magic power. I'm quite pissed so I also put in more magic power and Rubek-san moans “Uuuu” and falls to his knees.

“Rubek!!!!?”

“Eh?! Ah, are you okay? Rubek-san.”

“..... Your highness, I’m okay. There’s no problem.”

When Prince Alshade calls Rubek-sans name while surprised, I too called out to him. While staggering, Rubek-san standup while holding the sofa and answered that there is no problem.

“I am very sorry. I unconsciously put more magic power than I thought....”

“Ho Ho, Dear me what a surprise. To think that I will lose to Ojou-san, seems like I still have a long way to go.”

When I honestly apologize, Rubek-san has a face like a good-natured old man but, I noticed that his eyes didn’t laugh at all.

“Hahaha, Rubek was defeated and incidentally the talks have already finish too, so you can return now.”

“Yes, Your highness. Excuse me.”

I already received permission to leave from Prince Alshade so I quickly leave that place immediately. Linking up with Lein-nisama who was waiting for me, and return to the mansion. It is really a very tiring day....

Chapter 22

Translator : Ellionora

Editor : Fade

Chapter 22 Dance Party (6) <Alshade>

I started to know about her existence when Khais made a problem, or should I say an incident at Heinz Academy. Anyway, at that time Khais and his friends cornered and made a female student named Emil Vorst fall down, a Count's daughter. At that time, I still didn't pay that female student any mind and only recognized her as a victim, student A.

Next when I saw her name again was when I read a report from some infiltrators at Heinz Academy, a student who couldn't use magic a few days ago, she suddenly invoked <Tornado> twice within a several hours in interval. More accurately, the magic's name heard when she chanted is <Tatsumaki>, and as for the magic it seems to have the same characteristic as <Tornado>. From which country the Tatsumaki word comes from, I'm quite intrigued. Nevertheless, there are not many people who have a magic power to release <Tornado> twice, I decided to continue collecting more information about her, but not at the level of monitoring her.

After a short period of time she was kidnapped, I was really surprised when I was given information about the kidnappers group being annihilated. And what's more, the leader possessed a Skill, she's really done well to keep living. Though I heard that the possessor of Skills are more likely to show up when a person is raised in a cruel environment since childhood, different from magic power possessors, it is extremely difficult to distinguish if they conceal it.

And actually, I just met and had a chat with her today, and was protected. I never thought the chandelier would fall down you see, there is some seditious sign around but to think they planned to kill me by making the chandelier fall, well that person's not bad too huh. Though I have a defense barrier with me, I think I will still be safe without her protecting me.

"Oy Your highness, what are you being so absent minded for?"

"Nn. Ah, sorry. There's something I was thinking about."

"Well it's unusual for you to being absent minded like that. Ah, His majesty and others are safe without a single scratch."

After being taken from below the chandelier, I was taken to an exclusive room for the royal families, and they check if there are any injuries or if the barrier broke and so on. Though only my head can move while being checked, my childhood friend a full fledged knight, Vargo, spoke to me. Similarly another full fledged knight, Titi, informed me about my father's safety when I answered Vargo's question.

"Hey, Vargo."

"What is it, Your highness?"

""Dang.....! I think I will die here....." is a word from the street right?"

"Ah, well it's almost feels like that right? Where did you heard that word from anyway?"

"Directly from the Count's daughter's mouth."

"Bufoo! Your highness, please stop making fun of me. That is not a word used by noble ladies after all."

"That's right Your highness. Just because Vargo's brain is made from muscle, I think it's too cruel to made fun of him with that crude joke."

"Oy! Titi!!! Whose brain is made from muscle!?"

Although she said that instinctively, I'm sure she's really think so. However, I'm quite intrigued where a girl who has led a sheltered life like her learned that word. From the information in the report, she's had almost never gone out from her residence, she's only gone out twice, to a city that's close to the academy, after falling down the tree and after the kidnapping incident..... Gya gya gya, Vargo and Titi's quarrel is just getting noisier so I stay silent, after that I tell the attendant, Okuto, to call the leader of royal court magicians, Rubek. And ordered Titi to bring her here.

She was brought here by Titi with an expression of finding it troublesome but still answers the questions. Well, the questioning doesn't have any meaning anyway, the real issue is for Rubek to gauge her magic power. The criminal's objective is already understood too, and from the circumstances it is also impossible for it to be her charade.

Rubek was overwhelmed when gauging her magic power. A cold sweat was covering Rubek when he fell to his knees. He's already advanced in age after all, it won't end with only a scolding that I will receive from His majesty if he dies comparing magic power like this. Our country still cannot lose a famous master magician like Rubek. The business has ended so I told her to leave the room, and ask Rubek.

"Rubek, how was she?"

"It is unbelievable magic power. It is as though she was just taking some of my magic power lightly."

"Hee, an owner of magic power that can take Rubek's lightly huh. Un, that's good isn't it? Thank you Rubek, you can leave now."

"Yes, Your highness. Excuse me.... Please don't try to rush things."

"Un, I understand Rubek. Sorry for making you worried."

Rubek stands up and leaves the room. For there to be someone that can exceed Rubek, it's really the highest quality raw ore.

“..... Your highness, you made a nasty face there you know?”

“Nn? Is that so?”

Okuto told me that while bringing in the tea, I used my hand to cover my mouth which has broken into a grin, and then Titi was talking to me like she just remember about it.

“Eh, certainly I heard that Miss Emil has received a proposal for engagement from Gource Knight Duke house, Gilbert right?”

“Ah That’s right, she was protected by her family and they made her stay indoors to keep from becoming the Gource house mistress huh, I think it’s just a waste of a magician though.”

“Yes, even though she’s a magician with enormous magic power, to be confined in her house like that, I too think that’s really a waste....”

“And therefore, so that they didn’t agree to the engagement, let’s put some pressure on the Vorst house. Okuto, please say it nicely to them.”

“Yes, Your highness. Please leave it to me.”

“Ah and, what I want is not a full fledged mage, but a maid.”

“..... Al, again you..... why a maid? Isn’t a mage much better?”

“Vargo, you really don’t get it hu~h. It’s not interesting anymore when seeing something so obvious like that right~?”

“Your highness, a person like you is really..... It’s not the time to be playing around oka-y.”

“HAHAHA, well it’s fine isn’t? This might be the only time we can play around.”

I will make her become my maid, and arrange the full fledged mage another way.

If she becomes a maid, I can move her more freely right?

Chapter 23 Kingdom's 3rd Order of Knight

I really love Lein-nisama's appearance and kindness very much. And the escorting this time too, after the new year holiday ended, nisama returned to the knight order because of his job but he especially took a day off just to pick me up in our territory. Ah, when I said love I meant it as a familial love.

However, I think the reason Lein-nisama didn't grow stronger is because he is at a bottleneck. Even if I was fairly strong, as a woman with 4 years difference in age, I am weak as I was defeated when fight using a sword and only win once every 5 rounds against him. In the knights order, he can be said to be average in power, but I don't know the strength of the 3rd order of knights in the capital so I can't be sure about this.

After the dance party at the royal court, I and Lein-nisama return to our residence in the royal capital and went out the next day. Lein-nisama returned to the 3rd order of knights, and I return to the academy's dorm. There are still 2 and half months of holiday, so in the meantime I'm planning to make a present for Lein-nisama as an expression of my gratitude to him. It's a magic tool (Magic item) that looks like a dog tag that has been endowed with <Shield> magic that will be automatically invoked in case of an emergency, incidentally it's also endowed with tracking magic.

I-It's not like I'm going to become a stalker okay!?

In my mind, I make an excuse following the template of a tsundere. Because, when Lein-niisama is in danger, don't you want to rush over to him like a Hero? ..... I want to rush over!!

[He He He. A knight loses face when he is tied up too.]

[S-Shit! You coward!]

[Haa? what's bad about a villain being a coward~?]

[Anyway, untie this rope immediately! This is not a serious matter yet, your punishment can still be reduced.]

[Shut uuuuuup! That's doesn't matter anymore, I'm going to become a big shot from now on, by killing a knight!!]

[What!!!!!!]

[That's enough!!! Get away from Lein-oniisama!]

[E,Emil.....?]

[Onii-sama, I'm going to save you now. <Bind> <Stun>]

[Ah, the villain's movements are sealed, he's not moving after hit by something like electric shock! Emil thank you!! Emil is my prided little sister!]

[Oniisama!]

Hishiii! And so I continue to make wild delusions until Lein-niisama and I are hugging each other. Righteous development is really delicious.

Well, while having a delusion like that the prototype dog tags started to pile up. By the 5th day, the dog tag for Lein-niisama is completed. By the way, I gave one of the prototypes to Cecilia. I will ensure Cecalias safety too! Shakin!!

Kingdom's Order of Knights have 5 offices, each are at the center, north side, east side, south side and west side of the capital. The 3rd Order of Knights which Lein-niisama is affiliated to is in the west side of the capital. I borrowed the dorm's kitchen and made some Mille Crepes filled with mayonnaise & jam, and then Cecilia stuffs them inside a basket. By the way, Cecilia gave a favorable impression when tasting the one with mayonnaise. At present, I don't go planning to make dishes together with anyone so the recipe is a secret.

I arrived at the 3rd Order of Knights' office by carriage with the Dog Tag of Protection and the Mille Crepes with me. If a family member or a fiancée calls him at the receptionist desk we should be able to meet immediately. Of course I only talk about "If" though.

There's a counter right in front after passing the solid gate made of stone, and a woman who looks like the receptionist is seated there.

"Excuse me. I am Emil Vorst. I want to meet with my big brother Aslein...."

"Haa Aslein-sama is it?..."

When I said I want to meet with Lein-nisama, the receptionist woman suddenly gave an expression like she was hesitating or troubled. Before the receptionist tried to say something, a knight that looks like some frivolous man cut in when he came out from inside.

"Hmmm? Mia-chan, is it another girl whose aiming at Aslein again?"

"Hasler-sama.... No, this. This person said she is Aslein-sama's little sister and she want to meet with him...."

"Eeee!! You believe that? There's no way she's his little sister, Nnnn well, certainly she's have the same eye color but, isn't the hair color and face looks totally different?"

Seems like the receptionist name is Mia. And the frivolous Ikemen guy, Hasler, doesn't believe that I am Lein-nisama's little sister. Well certainly, I and Lein-nisama don't resemble each other so it's indeed quite hard for them to believe that. Anyway, just what about the girls that aim at Lein-nisama? Are you saying there are other woman who come here just to meet with Lein-niisama?

“Certainly I don’t look like my big brother Alsein, but I am genuinely his family. If you call Lein-niisama here, I believe your doubts will surely be cleared”

“It’s okay to call him here because we are on a break now but, we will be troubled by what will happen to Aslein later you see. If he got called every time girls like you come it will be endless you know? Do you understand?”

When Hasler said so, Mia-san begin to speak like she’s in favor to call Lein-niisama.

“But, aren’t there no problems if a family member was coming to meet him?”

“Eee, that setting is still continuing? Well let’s leave Aslein aside, how about me? I don’t know where you met with Aslein, Aslein is just more gentle than anyone you know. Nee, go with me.”

“Lein-niisama is not only gentle.....!!?”

Before I finished what I want to say, Hasler who has a great misunderstanding picks up some of my hair in his hand and kisses it. Well, erm. I’m just suddenly thrown inside unknown territory so I was freeze.

“Emil-sama!?”

“Nn? Emil?”

Cecilia who was standing behind me shouts my name, and with a stern expression she cuts in between me and Hasler, at that time from behind the reception desk, Lein-niisama shows up.

Are you a Hero!?

“Hasler? Emil..... what did you do to my little sister?”

“Eee? Aslein, just now... you said little sister? she’s really your little sister? You two don’t resemble each other at all!”

“I take after my mother, my little sister take after my father. Even if we doesn’t looks alike, we really are siblings you know.”

While Lein-niisama hugs me who was still frozen, Kiii he glares at Hasler.

“So, Hasler. What did you do to my little sister?”

“ ...”

“You can’t say it, Hasler? Don’t want to say it? I see..... Nee Emil, just now, what did this guy do to you? Can you tell me?”

“Lein-oniisama, that..... he kissed my hair.....”

“Aslein-sama. To say it more accurately that Knight said “Let’s leave Aslein aside, how about me?”, and kissed Emil-sama’s hair.”

“Thank you for telling me Emil, Cecilia.”

I was too embarrassed and only replied with a small voice, and Cecilia gave a clear explanation. Somehow, Lein-niisama’s expression became more stern than usual. Is he angry, perhaps? That Lein-niisama is!? No no, no way.

“Cecilia I’m sorry but can you wipe Emil’s hair? There might some germs attached to her hair.”

“Yes.”

Cecilia takes a handkerchief from Lein-niisama and wipes my hair. When Hasler sees this situation, he quietly turns his back to us and tries to leave this place.

“..... Hasler?”

“... Ah, no that. I’m really sorry okay. There’s no hurt feeling you know, un. But look, there are always girls or more like ladies trying to meet you so, I thought your sister was one of them, I tried to tease her a little. So I think, if she was swayed by me as well that would be great too~ There’s no deeper meaning to it, seriously! Really! You are a bother so just quickly be gone, that’s what I really wanted to let her know! Erm, un. Well little sister, I’m sorry! Goodbye!!”

Hasler turned his face when Lein-niisama called him, spewed some excuses and left with a dash. Is it a good thing that he’s exactly a frivolous man like he looks? Is it really good that he is a Knight even though he is this rotten? Nn, rotten.....? HA!! Lein-niisama X Hasler? Well, doesn’t vice versa sound good too? No no no, Lein-niisama is normal, normal. I believe in you Lein-niisama!!

“Emil, I’m sorry about Hasler. I will clearly, have some words with him later.”

“No, Lein-oniisama I am already okay. Other than that, am I a bother to suddenly come here?”

“No way! There’s no way you are a bother Emil. Emil will always be welcomed here.”

Lein-niisama opens his arms with an over reaction-like gesture, and I dive into his arms. The little sister position is not to be discard.

“Ah, right, is there any business you have with me?”

“Lein-oniisama, can you lean forward a little?”

“Nn, Is this good?”

“Yes.”

I put the dog tag around Lein-niisama’s neck.

“This is?”

“A present for Lein-oniisama.”

“Thank you Emil. I’m really happy!”

Lein-niisama looks at the dog tag on his chest, raising it up and looking at it curiously, and smiles broadly like a flower.

“Ufufu. That is an amulet.”

“Amulet?”

“To protect Lein-oniisama. That’s why I want Lein-oniisama to always have it close to your body.”

“Close to my body?”

“Yes, it won’t rust so please wear it even when taking a bath too.”

“Un, got it. If Emil says so then I will always have this with me.”

“Ah, and. Cecilia, the basket please.”

“Yes, Emil-sama”

“Lein-oniisama, these are cakes named Mille Crepe. If it okay please have it together with everyone.”

“Waa! Emil’s handmade? I’m so glad! I will have some later.”

Lein-niisama receives the basket while smiling. Because it will be bad if I take any more time than this, I take my leave.

“Lein-oniisama, I will take my leave now.”

“Eh, leaving already? That’s too bad, I will be happy if you come visit me again. Emil will be always be welcomed here!”

“Thank you very much. Well then”

I give my thanks to Lein-niisama who was feel despondent, and look at the surrounding gazes. Since when did this place become a gallery.... Those are the words coming out from my heart as I leave.

Idle Talk : Emil's Spring Vacation

“ . . . . and . . . . and then . . . . . ”

“ My . . . . . sa . . . is . . . . . sama ”

With a sensation like I was slumping, I suddenly raise my face, and with a wry smile the noble sons and daughters were looking at me.

Wha, What have I done! However you look at this, this is 100% my fault. To think I was dozing off in the middle of a tea party!!! And what's more, the host family is the Vorst house. In other words, at their own party, the daughter is dozing off, unbelievable! I've done it, but it's still unbelievable!!

“ Miss Emil, is my story that boring? ”

“ I, I am so sorry. That... I have lacked sleep recently.... I am very sorry. ”

With the words of a young master from a Count house, I immediately stand up and bow my head. I am really sorry. Ah, I can see my parents glaring at me from afar. My dear mother, your eyes aren't laughing at all!.... I'm sorry. Really sorry.

You see, for me who was always staying indoors at the academy's dorm, it is a mistake to suddenly drag me out and participate at a tea party. For me who has a fear of strangers to be together with this many people I don't know, it's impossible to be relaxed at all. The one who is the most unbelievable is me though, sorry.

For now, how do I deceive them.... or perhaps, let's make them consciously turn their focus to something else.

"Caroline-sama, don't you think it's getting a little cold here?"

"Ee, a little..."

I talk with a smile to a Viscount's daughter who was at the same table with me. This salon has a whole wall made of a glass on one side, and has a high ceiling so the air circulation is quite hard in here. The temperature in this year is really low compared to last year, the heater and fireplace are insufficient as well.

"<Air conditioner : Heating : Temperature Setting 25 Degree>"

I chant magic in a small voice, and the temperature inside the room starts to raise. This magic is easier to image than I thought. Science, Banzai!

"My! It getting warm. Was it perhaps, magic just now?"

"Yes, Caroline-sama. The room wasn't quite warm so I raised the temperature with magic."

"As expected from a person who saved His highness's life! What other kinds of magic you can use?"

"Aa, I want to know about that too. What other magic you can use?"

YES! They bit the hook! Not only Caroline, the young master too was interested in this topic, let's show some magic until they forget the blunder I made earlier.... or maybe not, the memories are going to be remain after all.

"I can use magic to heal light injuries but I'm still studying about it so...."

Because there is no need to tell the truth, I made it to look like I still can’t really use magic yet and the young master is starting to looking down at me. Which reminds me, the conversations I heard are just about bragging huh. Well, the lifeboat is here so I will get on it.

“I am really ashamed about my immaturity.”

“Seriously. My father can deforest dozens of forest at once——”

“Therefore, what I can do is only this much.”

While I’m being humble, the young master starts to boast about his papa with shuddering pride, and before he finishes talking, I cut in and chanted a magic with a loud voice.

“O millions of stars, show thy shine according to my command.
<Planetarium>”

When a night sky absurdly spread at the salon’s ceiling, the room suddenly becomes noisy with surprised and astonished people around. Father was showing a satisfied expression when I glance at him.

“How is my magic?”

“It is so beautiful! Please come to my tea party by all means.”

With glittering eyes, Caroline looks up at the ceiling and said “Please use this magic at my house too”. I’m not a handyman so I refuse.

“No-not bad huh.”

Somehow the young master was drawing back. Wasn't your papa amazing? The conversation from before probably got overwritten just now.

With the blunder that I made by dozing off covered, the tea party ends and I return to the academy's dorm.

Though I made a big blunder by dozing off at the tea party, there is a reason why I lack sleep recently. That is because I was going out every night..... saying it that way makes me sound like a bad person, but I have the awareness of what I'm doing is not something that I can tell others.

At the Kingdom's outskirts..... though I say that, there is an abandoned mine in a mountain within half a day by carriage, and I excavate ores there every night. Well, even though it is an abandoned mine, that is still crime so I try to act like a good little girl.

Why am I excavating ore you ask? Because the long sword I secretly brought from home cannot endure endowing magic, it's corroded and broken. It is normal to buy a sword that can endure magic at weapon shop but, I don't have money. Although I am a Count's daughter, I don't have any income, and a cheap weapon that can be bought with pocket money is not enough. And so I thought, why not make it? and got immersed with mining magic ores that can store magic power.

Although I discovered an ore vein with magic, the number of valuable ores is just too scarce. I use <Scan> while underground, because magic ores contain magic power I tried to probe around with <Magic Detection> and found them stretched inside the mine like a spiderweb by loitering there every night. And that's how I lack sleep.

For going there and returning I use <Warp>, it only takes a moment so there's no travel time at all.

Excavating magic ores, getting pushed with tasks at the academy by Ron-sensei, and sometimes going to tea parties. Days quickly passed and finally, the quantity of magic ores that required is in my hands. At last, production of 2 long swords with their sheaths and a buckler begins.

Magic ore is a very valuable ore, it can turn into a national treasure class weapon or armor by being kneading pure magic power into them and forging them. That is what's written in a book I read. To knead magic power, a mage with sufficient magic power has to do it or it won't be produced. By the way, it seems like there is a magic blacksmith job, however because mages are really scarce, a person with that occupation can't be found easily. Incidentally for the sheath, if the sword is too sharp it will cut even a normal sheath too.

Well I have more than the required magic power, and so the production finished without a problem. But, it seems like I accidentally put too much magic power in during kneading process, well with that the sharpness is much better anyway, and about the endowing, it was written in the book I read that the weapon's power will increase too so I think it's okay, maybe. Just in case, I create a registration function so only the owner can use it. It will be dangerous to allow anyone else to use this, it's going to be big trouble if this weapon gets taken away.

The swords handle until to its blade are made from magic ore, the mille-feuille ripple is really beautiful like a Damascus blade. The buckler is also similar. The color is almost close to dark purple, the ripple lines shine like a rainbow color. This can be the best gift! Best item!

Thus, I use up my spring vacation playing around with magic ore, and the second year of school life is about to begin.

TN : Damascus sword.

Chapter 24 2nd Grader

5th month. In spring, I became a 2nd year student. The academy divides and ranks classes by abilities, my school year has a S and A to E, 6 classes. The number of classes changes depending on the people who enroll that year.

The class classification is almost always like this, of course there are exceptions too.

S : Elite class or class for geniuses, talented students and royal family members. Only this class has a small number of students.

A to C : Nobles' class or class for excellent students.

D and below : Ordinary or commoners' class.

I was in C class when I was a 1st year. It feels like I was put in there because of my nobility status. The magic power measurement that has become the admission standard judges whether the quantity of magic power is above a certain level so there's still no accurate way to measure magic power quantity. A way is to make use of magic skills at the entrance examination, skills besides magic -- for example swordsmanship or a great intellect, will be evaluated as well and assigned accordingly.

Because ability changes depending on individual growth over a year, naturally classes will change too. The class I am assigned to is class S. At the end of last year, many things happened so in a sense that is a given, I think.

It's not like I hate class S, okay. In the higher classes the lesson choices will increase with materials that are easier to understand, and the books that we are allowed to read will increase too. The problem is the classmates, the probability for Prince Khais, Light Miko Bitch-chan, Gilbert and Shota being in the same class is high..... I simply didn't want to get rolled together with them, I made up in my mind to spend my time ignoring them.

I open the door to class S and enter, because the seating order has still not been decided I sit in an empty seat. And when the chime rings a teacher comes in.

“Yaa ladies and gentleman, congratulation on the promotion. I will be the one in charge of History lessons this year too, Claris. My best regards.”

A teacher with a nice body like Fujiko-chan that appear from a certain third generation anime gave her greetings. Even though her body was covered by a robe, her breasts are abnormally large. Her look is EroI but her sexual appeal strangely doesn't show because of the way she speaks.

(TN: She's speaking like a gentlemen and sometimes feminine and sometimes combine both. Read the raw made me thinks like there are 2 people speaking in her lines -.-)

“This year, the number of students in class has increased by 1 becoming 20. The new student in class is Miss Emil Vorst. Please get along with her!”

I stand up, bow, and sit down again. Just me alone getting introduced is quite..... No, it's really embarrassing. I don't like getting attention from many people after all.

“Now then, some new info. The school event for next month will be practical training outside the academy. Our class S's training location is as usual at the forest that to the west of here, a monster subjugation at the West Demon's Forest.”

When the West Demon's Forest's was mentioned, the class suddenly became noisy. The West Demon's Forest is on the outskirts of the capital, it is the most dangerous area. And the country is tightly managing it so people don't recklessly enter.

“Silence! Even if I said the West Demon's Forest, we won't enter too deep, and the Knight Order has been prepared to guard us just in case. Of course, the Academy's (Our) Practical Skill teachers will be accompany us too. Maa, I will be there praying for you, Ladies and gentlemen, safety in the camp site too you know.”

“Fufun” laughing mischievously, Claris-sensei put her hands on her hips, leaned forward causing her her breasts to greatly sway.

The classmates said “That’s foul”, “Shiiiiit” and so on half in jest.

“Now then, from now on for this training, we will split into groups and make teams. 5 people form 1 team. Forming a team with only your friends is okay, Form a team while thinking about the team’s strength is also okay. Hai, Begin!!”

Pan when Claris-sensei claps her hands, the class stands up all at once and starts to make teams one by one.

..... Damn. Completely got a late start. Or rather, some of the student might know but the people who know about my power are not many.

They can’t let a person they’ve met for first time with unclear strength watch their back. And so, there is no way to let that person be a companion. I was left alone before I realised it, so embarrassing. There are 20 students and a team will be formed with 5 students, so that means there’s no way a single student will be remaining. There should be a vacant team somewhere!

“Ano, are there any vacant teams?”

It’s really embarrassing to call out by myself in this situation.

“Emil-chan. Our team still has a vacancy here!”

There’s an invite from Bitch-chan—! And here I wanted to avoid her. Is this god’s trial?

Only Bitch-chan’s team has an available spot while the other teams are already full.

“Bi..... Siltat-sama, I am really happy if I can join your team.”

“Of course! Kai and Gil are okay too, right?”

Bitch-chan gets the approval from Khais and Gilbert. There’s no approval from the Shota: Christopher huh. Which reminds me, at the dance party, I didn’t see Shota there.

“Waa-i!! I’m really happy to be in the same team as Emil-chan—!”

Bitch-chan clung to my arm and made merry. Anyway can you let go? Khais and Gilbert’s gaze hurts you know. To be jealous towards a woman, what narrow-minded people, those two better do something about that. I extract my arm from Bitch-chan, “Thank you very much” say my thanks and return to my seat.

“Yoshi, looks like everyone is done. Hora, everyone return to your seats. There will be early training tomorrow with your teammates so work hard and strive to not get injured nor get killed!”

After saying that, Claris-sensei leaves the classroom.

Check out the ads if you havnt done so already today...!

Chapter 25 Preliminary Training (1)

Preliminary training for the practical training will be held from today on. Until 2nd period is a general lesson so 3rd to 7th periods lessons will be used for the training.

Today is the first day for 1 on 1 combat training with team members, the aim is to measure each individual abilities, and make use of them for the team's formation and cooperation according from each member fighting style.

It's been decided that before the match, we will call each team member with their first name. While in the battle there will be no room to call team members with a long name coupled with their title so I think that is obvious right? Whether it's fine to call the Prince without honorifics, it might be a privilege only for the team. I don't need such a privilege so can I enter another team?

“And so, please call me Kai. And for Gilbert, is Gil fine?”

“Fine”

“Call me Risty okay!”

“..... I am, fine with Chris.”

“Please call me Emil.”

I quietly bow my head. To be frank, while in the middle of the match I doubt I can keep my speaking manners as a lady but, I will try to keep them for as long as I can. Continuing on, next is battle position check.

“I can use sword and magic, even though it’s only fifty-fifty. My strong attribute is Wind. I will say this for Emil who still doesn’t know, I got 1st place in class at the mock battle last year, my quantity of magic power is quite high you know.”

The Prince boasts of his achievement. So, in game terms he’s an Attacker huh.

“Sword and Shield are my main. I can only use magic for body enhancement. I only have a little magic power after all.”

I knew it, Gilbert is a muscle-brain. No matter how you look at him, he’s a Tanker.

“Next is me! I can use magic from the Light Attribute like healing and barrier!”

Bitch-chan is a Healer. Her head looks weak so I’m quite worried about how she will control her magic power.

“..... I am, good at Fire and Earth magic. Close combat is..... not good.”

Shota is a Magical Attacker huh.

“I am..... quite good at Sword and I consider Magic as my Main. I am poor at Healing Magic but other than that, I think I can use them well.”

“Emil-chan used a barrier and protected Alshade-sama at that time right? And so I think Barrier Magic is your forte!”

“Ee..... Whether that is my forte or not I am not sure but, I know how to use them.”

Bitch-chan complimented me while looking elated but, the others except Shota who wasn't present at that time already knew that! So please, you don't need to say it in high spirits like that!!

“Look at them systematically, I think the fight will be Emil and I first and then Risty and Chris. Is that good?”

“I agree.”

“Me too—!”

“..... un”

“Gil is, I want you to fight the winner between Emil and I's match.”

“Got it.”

Ron-sensei will be the referee for my match with Khais at the outdoor battle ground. Ron-sensei, you look as beautiful as ever today too, only your looks though!

The match rules are, only swords made from wood can be used, do not kill your opponent and the winner will be decided when someone gives up or cannot fight anymore. Of course, any magic can be use freely.

When I headed to the position to begin the match, Ron-sensei said “Please hold back” to me in low voice so I nodded lightly.

And when Khais and I were in position to begin the match, Ron-sensei started the countdown.

“The match will begin in, 5, 4, 3, 2, 1, Begin!!!”

Piii~

The whistle’s signal for match reverberated.

“O roaring flames, burn everything. <Fire>”

Just to try out, I used the Elementary Level magic and fire started to blow up from below where Khais is standing but, he easily avoided them.

Except for its wide range and traps, magic with fixed coordinates are easy to avoid.

Continuing on, I use <Ice Lance> and <Fire Ball> too but he evaded them.

He probably has done training to battle against a mage.

With my magic being avoided one after another, Khais started to attack me in close quarter combat with his sword swinging down at me. I try to block his attack with my sword but,

Heavy!!

Is this the difference between our bodies weight? Or perhaps the power in gender difference?

His attack may be heavier than Lein-niisama’s.

He might be rotten, but he is still an Elite Ouji-sama after all.

“<Air Hammer>”

“UGU!”

With the deadlock from blocking Khais’ sword, I attack his abdomen with magic and he was blown 2 meters away but there are no damages to him at all.

Fumu? Somehow, I feel something is out of place.

“O wind blade, cut her to pieces! <Wind Cutter>”

I apply body enhancement magic <Muscle Body> and speed raising magic <Quick> to myself when <Wind Cutter> magic from Khais was coming at me and evade it. And while at it, I slash his flank with the sword but,

Bashhi, together with the impact, my sword was repelled by something.

..... is this, a Barrier from Safeguard Attribute? Nonono, with that thing around, isn't there no meaning at all to this training. Of course you can get the 1st place at the mock battle with that.

If nothing was done to that barrier, he won't receive any damage at all.

“That Barrier. Don't you think that is unfair?”

“This is a Barrier for royalty, it's not unfair at all. It's meaningless to not use things that can be used.”

I understand that but, I want you to think about TPO.

A Barrier that protects royalty from attacks by covering their bodies, an item or magic that protects the royalty from external attacks huh.....

Are? Then, even without me saving Prince Alshade from the chandelier, couldn't he still survive?

Tto anyway, to win I have to do something about that barrier first. What a pain...

While parrying Khais' slashes, I cast <Analyze> magic toward Khais and learned that the necklace he wearing is a Magic Tool (Magic Item) that consumes its wearers magic power to sustain the barrier.

Should I break it? Or should I drain his magic power? My options are only these 2.

It's troublesome to break a small necklace while in the middle of fight so I decided to drain his magic power.

"FUU.....!"

While still engrossed with the analysis result, I heard an exhaled breath overhead. Looking above in a fluster, Khais was brandishing his sword greatly and swinging it downward.

A loud sound when wooden swords clashed together, reverberating.

I can stop his slash somehow.

At the same time, I change his swords trajectory with my sword's broad side and knock his sword away, letting go of my sword and taking Khais' hands with my both hands.

"<Magic Power Takeover>" "UaAAAAAAAAAaaa!!"

Khais started to scream in pain when I start steal his magic power with <Magic Power Takeover>. Somehow, I can vaguely sense his magic power flowing into me. Seems like his magic power is completely taken.

"DoryaAAAA!!"

With my fist raised upward, I punch directly at Khais' face when he still staggering around and like that, he was thrown to the ground.

With various body enhancement and speed raising magic still in effect.

When I begin to open my mouth to recite a chant to stop the effect,

Plllll—!

The whistle's sound rang.

“That’s enough! Risty-san, please tend His Highness.”

“Haa—i! Leave it to me!”

Ron-sensei gave the signal to end the match and Bitch-chan begins to tend Khais.

I think he only got light injuries even when a girl with a little enhanced power punched him.

It’s still a mystery about when he will completely recover, when his magic power got drained to almost 0.

Chapter 26

Translator : Ellionora

Editor : Fade

Chapter 26 Preliminary Training (2)

It may have come with a great shock to an opponent who didn't expect they would lose. Even after the match between Bitch-chan and Shota ended, Khais was still staring somewhere, being absentminded. Or maybe it's because his magic power is exhausted.

Bitch-chan VS Shota's match was a draw.

Bitch-chan who kept up her Guard earnestly with a barrier, and Shota who kept launching magic one after another. Ron-sensei stopped the match because time was up and they would've kept repeating themselves. NICE decision! It's just going to be a waste of time after all.

Thus next is me VS Gil's match. If this was a TV show, wasn't there going to be a gust of wind like in those final showdowns?

As for me, a few days ago I was called to our mansion in the Royal Capital by father before he returned to his territory, and heard that the engagement has been officially turned down so I don't need to care about Gilbert anymore.

Please do your best to achieve happiness with Bitch-chan!

Also, I heard father say something like "Better use" or something like that in the middle of our conversation, but let's pretend I didn't hear that.

I clearly heard it though!

When I glance at Gilbert, he was clearly glaring at me.

He only has a bad look..... maybe not.

“Then, both of you go to the starting position.”

“Yes”

“I understand”

Gilbert and I move to our positions and wait for the match’s signal with our swords drawn.

“The match will begin in, 5, 4, 3, 2, 1, Begin!!!”

The match begins with Ron-sensei’s signal(Whistle).

Gilbert already applied body enhancement, and charges forward in straight line at high speed.

As expected, receiving Gilbert’s attack is just too dangerous.

He’s a Knight Apprentice because he is still a student but there’s a rumor that in ability, it’s not strange if he can get to Knight Leader Class just in a few years.

I don’t have any interest in him so I only heard that from a rumor but, I somehow know that he is much stronger than Lein-nisama. Thus, for the me who loses against Lein-nisama, against Gilbert, I can’t win in close combat battle.

Stacking the speed increase magic on myself, I evaded Gilbert’s attack.

“..... Chi”

I heard Gilbert click his tongue.

Are you seriously going all out against a girl? Seriously serious!?

He planned to end this with one attack huh, that was close—

This guy, he really is serious.

If this continues like this it's just going to be huge disadvantages for me, so for now let's take some distance..... !!?

“KU!!”

Without slowing down his hands, Gilbert keeps closing in with slashes.

Although I let my guard down because I was in deep thinking and was late in response, I can somehow avoid his attack.

And like that I want to quickly get away from him but my foot got tangled up when I was running, and I beautifully fell down.

In addition with my speed was increased by magic, I rolled on the ground like the 1st Getto dive (1ゲッツスサー) with clouds of dust rising behind me! So embarrassing.

It's not the time to feel embarrassed while in the middle of a fight so when I go to quickly stand up, Gilbert was looking down at me with his sword pointed right before me.

“Hmph, only this much huh.”

“To talk in the middle of fight, you really have lot of composure there!!!”

“GUA! What are you doing!!?”

“Blinding technique. You don't know about it?”

I clutch a handful of sand on the ground while speaking and throw it at Gilbert's face with all I have.

I use this blinding technique I learned from the villain in a manga.

Haaa~ Ha Ha Ha Ha, everything is okay as long as I can win!

“You!! Coward!!!”

I magnificently ignore Gilbert who is complaining while rubbing his eyes.

Fighting on the ground is just going to put me at a disadvantage so I use <Fly> and soar into the sky. I wish I had done this earlier. Swords can't reach the sky after all.

Oo? Somehow all the people below open their eyes wide while looking at me, well there are no rules saying 'no flying' so I think it's okay.

My body has already become tired because of the magic to raise my speed, and I was injured when I fell down. It was so embarrassing too, mou it's just getting troublesome so let's quickly end it here.

“O merciful rain, become my weapon <Downpour>”

“UWA! What are you doing! Shit! Get down here!!”

After confirming Gilbert's body getting wet with the heavy downpour, I cancel <Downpour> and start chanting the next magic.

“Become a dweller in this frozen world, <Cocytus>”

Temperature suddenly falls, everything that's wet from the downpour turned into ice.

The battle ground turns into a frozen world in the blink of an eye, and Gilbert's foot gets stuck in from the ice. Without stopping, the temperature in the atmosphere keeps falling and it's only a matter of time before Gilbert is turned into an ice sculpture. Even me who was in the sky was getting cold too, moreover for Gilbert who took the magic directly like that, it's maybe unbearable to him.

"Gil, if you want to surrender, this is the time you know?"

"..... Wh, who ..... is ..."

Gilbert painfully says, perhaps because he took a deep breath his throat began to freeze.

What a stubborn guy, if I was in your position, I would surrender immediately you know.

Because this is just training after all, it's better for you to wish to be released faster when you know you're going to lose.

I softly land on the frozen ground and look at Gilbert, after that I turn to Ron-sensei.

Ron-sensei was still dumbfounded but when he realise I was looking at him, he quickly gave the signal to end the match.

"Ri, Risty-san! I leave Gilbert's treatment to you. Please hurry!"

"Ha, ha, Hai!!"

Ron-sensei gave a flustered order for treatment, and Bitch-chan who gave a flustered respond.

He is probably just going to have a little frostbite, there is no need to be flustered right? While I was thinking that, Ron-sensei was already besides me before I realised and spoke to me in low voice.

“Didn’t I ask you to hold back?”

“Yes, I am holding back like I was asked.”

“Eh?”

“Eh?”

“..... is THAT holding back?”

“Yes, I choose magic that won’t kill the target and I keep the power down too.”

And here I was holding back to such an extent, it seems like Ron-sensei is still dissatisfied with that.

Incomprehensible.

Chapter 27 In the Hospital

Our team's got a 2 day break because of the bodily injuries Gilbert received and Khais who got mental damage. Gilbert's injuries are much more severe than I thought, I heard from Ron-sensei that Gilbert's legs got better after Bitch-chan keep healing him over and over again.

“Do you know the meaning of training?”

“Yes, of course I know it.”

“As teammates, you all are training together to gauge each other abilities. Did you know about that too?”

“I know.”

“Just like I said before, His Highness is fine but Gilbert has more severe injuries. It's to the degree that if Risty-san was not around, he would have had to have various amputations.”

“ ... ”

And so, on the last day of day off, I was called by Ron-sensei and was scolded for over a hour.

“You have too poor a control over your magic power. If you fight together as a team from now on, you have to avoid making trouble for your companions. Do you understand?”

“I apologize for my poor control of my own magic power but, I have never done something like troubling myself and the people around me with offensive magic so it’s not something to be worried about.”

“I have found it strange from sometimes ago but, what do you mean?”

“Even if sensei asks the meaning, it is like that after all.”

I feel like Ron-sensei was asking me out of curiosity but, I can’t not visit Gilbert after this so let’s finish this now.

“I apologize Ron-sensei but, I have something to do after this so I will excuse myself now. Let’s talk about magic another time.”

“..... I understand. Please be more careful when using magic.”

“Yes, excuse me.”

I leaving the student counsel room and go to the Infirmary.

The Infirmary has their own building on the academies grounds, it has a lot of public rooms and private rooms, and it is also possible for the hospitalization of injured people just like a hospital.

Gilbert is hospitalized in the private room.

When I waiting for permission to enter after taking a deep breath in front of Gilbert’s sickroom, Bitch-chan came out.

“Ah, it’s Emil-chan! Want to visit Gilbert?”

“Ee, I caused him serious injuries the other day, and also I have caused trouble for you like this.”

“No, please don’t mind it! He has already recovered so I will take my leave now.”

“Risty, I was saved thanks to you. .... Thank you.”

“Ehehe—. See you two later! Bye by~e!”

Right before Bitch-chan was going to leave, Gilbert called out to her while blushing.

Are you a maiden!!?

Bitch-chan response is light like usual and she leaves immediately.

There was just me and Gilbert left behind.

Awkward.

“..... ano, I am very sorry for causing you to be seriously injured.”

“Not really.....”

Whether it's because Bitch-chan was no longer here or it's just he doesn't want to talk with me, Gilbert goes Tsun-mode but, I've already calmed down so without minding him, I have to talk about that and end it here.

“It's seems you have completely recovered, if you don't mind, please eat this.”

“Aa”

I pass the sweets I brought here.

“Also, there is something I want to talk to you about, but is it okay with you?”

“What?..... is it about the engagement?”

“Ee, it is. Gil has heard about it too?”

“Whether I want to hear it or not, I was scolded by father when the engagement got rejected after all.”

Gilbert averted his face away.

Nn? Why was Gilbert scolded when the engagement got rejected? The Vorst house is the one who rejected it so Gilbert shouldn't have anything to do with that.....

“I already told you many times to not mind that accident, it's not something that you should be responsible for. I understand that this can't be an excuse for the people from the venerable Grouge house but.....”

“..... At first it was just responsibility for the accident. Our social status was balanced too after all. But, as a magician, father judged you an excellent one and he might be seriously thinking to take you into Grouge house lineage at that time. What's more, an excellent magician will become one of ours and it will increase our fame too, but he might never have thought to be rejected. You should captivate her heart more, he said.”

“Maa, that is.....”

That was a disaster huh.

Is it because I am a commoner inside that how upper class society thinks about ability and lineage are very troublesome to me?

However, since I have decided to abide, in a sense to repay what my house = father, who raised me without any inconveniences until now. But when I think if father accepted the engagement there will be a future where Gilbert and I got married, I already have a complicated feeling when thinking about that.

“But with this Gil is free, and I believe there's a very suitable partner for you.

For example, a certain Light Magic user.”

“Wha-!!”

Gil’s cheek suddenly go red when he gets what I’m saying.

You’re too easy to read, you are really easy to read!!

“Fufu, maa do your best, shounen.”

Gil opens his eyes wide when I clap his shoulder.

I only raised the edge of my mouth and laugh, after that I gave a parting words and left the sickroom.

Chapter 28 Extracurricular Training (1)

“Uu..... oee”

A food-waste like smell and gooey like texture spreads inside my mouth. I immediately turn around and spit “it” out.

When I want to adjust my rough breath I look at the people around me, Khais was smiling with a blue face, Gilbert was putting his hand on his mouth and somehow swallowed “it”. Christopher was, crying while spitting “it” out like me.

The person who made this murderous like food was..... Risty, waiting for our impression with a smile on her face.

A typical Heroine chara who was no good at cooking is not needed you know. No one will be happy you know!

For about 1 month we took lessons and training for monster subjugation together, and for 2 weeks from today onward the extracurricular training will begin.

Speaking of which, something has changed during this training period, Bitch-chan and Shota’s nicknames that I thoughtlessly branded to them in my mind, I was now decided to call them by their name even in my mind too. And also, I think my relationship with other members has somehow improved a bit.

And finally, the extracurricular training is just begin but, a tragedy suddenly occurred on the campground right at the onset.

Risty's cooking ability is just hopeless, or rather, how can a taste like this be reproduced with those ingredients? I don't get it at all.

"How is it? Delicious?!"

These kind of people are really troublesome because they are really full of confidence.

I have to be straightforward in telling her here.

"I ate it....."

"Of course it's delicious, Risty."

"It's the best flavor ever!"

Before I wanted to say "It's not edible at all", Khais and Gilbert came covering for her first. It will be much better if they drop dead.

When I glared at them, they both avert their eyes.

It's like they don't understand at all, if we don't say it clearly here, the victims are only going to increase in the future.

"I, I am full already."

"Eee? Don't want it anymore?? So Emil-chan is a light-eater ne."

While saying that, Risty heartily ate the mysterious food and something that looks like a stew. If this is a game, she must be have a Poison-Resistance skill.

Now then, I'm not eating dinner, But we are now near the West Demon's Forest in a vast grassland which it surrounds. Even there are not many trees around. In other words, there are not any place to hide.

The risk of eating sweets and food from Inventory without getting found out by others is difficult..... I can only bear this until morning.

The tents in the campground are separated by gender, 1 tent is for 4 people. Even at night, there are Knights and Guards patrolling around so we, the girls, don't have to worry about the boys so we can sleep with peace of mind. The student's who came here for training are mainly from Noble families, and now since there are also students from the royal family the Knights who are guarding somehow seem more numerous. Even though I said training, the atmosphere is almost like school trip though.

After quickly tidying up after dinner, I began to prepare for sleep.

We don't have to go into the Demon's Forest early in the morning tomorrow, so I only need to defend my breakfast like my life is on the line.

"Everyone, I will take my rest first. Goodnight"

I speak towards the people that have gathered around Risty and move to the ladies tent, Risty also says "Me too!" and we go together. Looking like their treasure was taken away, Khais and Gilbert's glares pierce at me.

"Risty, goodnight."

"See you tomorrow."

"Un, goodnight you two~. Let's go, Emil-chan!"

After Risty says her parting words to Khais and Gilbert, we go towards the tent with her arm entangled to my arm.

Is this that, that high-school girl Nori thing? And in the middle of that, I was somewhat uneasy for being unable to break the ice talking with onee-sama, and entered the tent.

(TN: Emil just made a joke there and also from what i know, Nori is a slang usually used for picturing a mood. PS: I never heard this slang used for people's relationship so I can't give a clear explanation.)

In the tent, there are 2 girls from other teams already inside, in any world if there're girls gathered together with a school trip like atmosphere, there will be a girl-talk until dawn.

I'm going to sleep though!

Well it doesn't really matter but, I've learned that putting up a barrier so the love-talk is not getting leaked is just too much.

Chapter 29

Translator : Ellionora

Editor : Fade

TN: This is the latest chapter in syosetu. Well until the author update again guess i will translate another series.... maybe.

Chapter 29 Extracurricular training (2)

The next morning, I woke up earlier than Risty and began to make preparations for breakfast, while I waiting for everyone to wake up, Gilbert woke up first.

“Good morning.”

“.... ning”

He looks sleepy. Or rather, aren’t you just saying “ning” there!

Give a proper greeting!!

“You made them?”

“Yes”

“.... It’s edible right?”

“How rude. If you don’t want it, should I ask Risty-san to make it?”

Gilbert says that while pointing at the preparation for breakfast so I return it with sarcasm. By the way, the menu for today is vegetable soup and hamburgers, after that I just have to bake the patties and the bread. At least it's won't be unappetizing.

A short time later, all the members have gathered and we eat breakfast while talking about some trifling things, and before I realized it, it's become a conversation about my equipment.

"Nee Emil-chan. Are you alright with that getup?"

It's okay, no problem at all. That's what I want to say but I held back and ask Risty back.

"Are there any problems?"

"Nn? How should I say this, it's somehow plain, it doesn't seem to have any defense to take any attacks."

"I have a role as the scout so I think there shouldn't be any problems as long it's easy to move in and doesn't stand out."

The equipment I'm wearing is a dull green tunic and light brown trousers with some partial leather armor. It's just like early stage equipment for a Thief and a Hunter in a RPG game. My weapon, Schrödinger, the longsword I made with magic ore that's hanging at my waist. If compared with my team members equipment, it indeed looks plain, and somehow looks thin I guess.

"I see—. However with that getup, you don't' look like a noble ojou-sama at all—"

"Thank you very much."

It might sounds like sarcasm, but let's take it as praise.

“..... Naa, Emil. That sword, can you let me see it?”

“Ee, I don’t mind.”

Gilbert was interested in Schrödinger so I unfasten the belt and pass over the sword. Perhaps because he knows that he can’t take out the sword, without drawing it, he earnestly looks at the sword.

“For Gil to show an interest in someone else’s sword, that’s quite rare.”

“..... Kai, this isn’t just a sword. How can I say this, this just isn’t a normal sword.”

While saying as much as he likes, he passed Schrödinger to Khais.

Please, I want you to stop acting like somebody’s sword was your own thing and pass it to others like that–.

Subletting is prohibited you know! At least get permission from the owner first.

“Certainly, it’s just like Gil said, this isn’t normal at all. What a strange sword, it’s like it has its own magic power....”

Like they want to hear more about Schrödinger, Khais and Gilbert’s silently stare at me.

“Thank you very much.”

I stretch my hand to take Schrödinger back while saying that, but Khais doesn’t hand it over. He must want to know what raw materials are in the sword and keeps it within his hands. Well, it’s not like I didn’t understand the feeling of wanting the best equipment you know.

While still wavering about how I should answer, before I realize it, Christopher is already standing beside Khais and gently pats Schrödinger's handle.

"..... This, magic ore. Everything, made from magic ore."

"EE!?"

"HAAA!?!?"

Should I say "Correct" there, Christopher..... By the way, "EE!?" is Khais, "HAAA" is Gilbert.

"No way, you mean this sword, is entirely, made from magic ore?"

"..... Un. I'm not sure because I still can't see the blade but, ... This scabbard and the handle, entirely made from magic ore."

"Oy, Emil. Where did you get your hands on this? This is a national treasure class weapon you know!?"

"EH!!? It's such an amazing sword!? Emil-chan's armor is disappointing but her weapon is amazing ne!"

Un, the armor is something I brought from home, however the sword's materials is from my hard work okay! And also, I want a chance to draw it too you see!

"There are only a few weapons that are entirely made from magic ore, I only heard that there are a few weapons like that in the treasury but this is the first time I'm seeing the real thing like this."

"Maa! I'm wasn't at all aware that this sword was so valuable. I should make use of it carefully then."

I give an exaggerated response, I just want to end this conversation immediately so I take Schrödinger back from Khais and put it back on my waist. It seems like Khais and Gilbert still want to hear more about Schrödinger, but there came an order to make preparations to depart in 30 minutes so each of us start to begin our preparations.
